Dear Andrea,

We've had some pretty good times together these past two years. You've really cheered me up a lot this year just by smiling. You have given me some good advice too.
 Our friendship cooled a little these last few months but I guess that was my fault. This summer I'm planning on seeing a lot more of you. I hope someone has a party so we all can get together. Next year I hope we have another class but not English cause you're too smart.
 What would Mrs. Norton do without you. Next year we will be Seniors and will end a big part of our life but I hope it will start a close friendship that will continue to grow between us.
 Take care and see you this summer. A cool here.

A black and white photograph of a street scene. On the left, a tall utility pole with multiple cross-arms stands prominently. To its right, a street lamp with a single globe is visible. Further right, several bare trees with thin branches are silhouetted against a light sky. In the background, a dark, sloping hill or roofline is visible. The foreground shows a paved street with some shadows. The overall mood is quiet and somewhat desolate.

So Friend—

*Cry out to the distant stars.
Sing the song of the universe.
Thou art the individual!*

Andrea,

I sorry I didn't get to know you better, but there is always our great senior year to get acquainted. Maybe we can even have some classes together.

MR. HAYES . . . Principal

Carriers of "big

MR. HAYES . . . Just as individuals are important to the success of nations, corporations, and organizations, so Stadium's principal, Mr. Hayes, is the individual on whom much of the success of the school year depends. Without his support and interest many of the highlights of the year would have gone down in failure.

He stands out not only in his achievements, but also in his personality and stature. Walking into his office, you find him eager to be of assistance. Walking through the halls, you see him busily running about from room to room, always ready with an encouraging smile. Speaking before the student body, he always manages to create enthusiasm, if that spark is lacking, and respect for his authority when problems arise. His special interest in each student as an individual accounts for the feeling of understanding that exists between the faculty and the student body.

With such an individual heading the administration, Stadium must be the envy of all high schools. As long as the student body is willing to do its share, Mr. Hayes is always ready to do all in his power to keep Stadium the finest high school to attend.

MR. MAZZEI . . . With enthusiasm and earnest effort, Mr. Mazzei has been serving Stadium and its student body for the past few years. Besides carrying out the duties of the vice-principal's position, Mr. Mazzei is also an indispensable assistant to Mr. Hayes. Being in charge of discipline, representing Stadium at various meetings, helping to improve the curriculum, making announcements over the intercom; all this, and numerous extra curricular activities, keep Mr. Mazzei busy throughout the year.

To him we can be grateful for the continued high ideals and standards of Stadium, for it is the main duty of Mr. Mazzei to keep the climate of study for the whole student body. Helping with the curriculum, weeding out the truants; all this comes under the capable hands of Mr. Mazzei.

Though some fear the thought of being called to Mr. Mazzei's office, others find him of great assistance in club activities, and in planning programs. Because he is a man of action we have seen much improvement in the school during the years Mr. Mazzei has been vice-principal.

MR. MAZZEI . . . Vice Principal

Efficient office and counseling staff provides

Mrs. Wetmore, secretary to the principal; Mrs. Anderson, secretary to the college counselor; and Mrs. Hook, activity clerk.

OFFICE STAFF . . . Beginning their day long before the students arrive and leaving Stadium long after school hours, are the members of the office staff. Their motto is "Service and Efficiency", and with this creed they have kept the school running smoothly.

There have been two additions to the staff this year. Mrs. Hook, the new activity clerk, could easily be recognized by the scraps of paper which she wore. The scraps contained only a few of the countless announcements to be given daily over the intercom. Mrs. Anderson, secretary to the college counselor, was of invaluable assistance in sending applications and other forms to the colleges selected by the seniors.

Mrs. Wetmore, as secretary to the principal, has, as always, proven to be Mr. Hayes' indispensable "right-hand woman". Mrs. Kizer, secretary to the three counselors, was kept extremely busy with her chores of programming, credit-checking and even administering the new oral polio vaccine.

students with excellent service and guidance

COUNSELORS . . . This year, as new faculty members were added to the staff to meet the demands of an ever-increasing student body, it was decided that guidance would be more effective if a third counselor was added. Mr. Buffaloe, the new counselor, joined Mr. Percy and Miss Solberg, who were, as always, available with encouragement and help for all guidance problems.

Another member of the counseling "team" at Stadium was Miss Forbes. To her belongs the job of helping seniors find and gain admission to a suitable college, and of helping underclassmen successfully prepare to meet college requirements. Because there was always new information such as tests to be taken, class standing to be received, and applications to be filled, her office became a frequent and necessary stopping place.

The counselors, with your best interests in mind, are one of the greatest assets a school can possess. We can be especially proud of our guidance department.

May success always smile on you -

Senior field trip to the Repertory Theatre adds

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT . . . With changing ideas and mounting knowledge comes the ever-increasing importance of communication. No matter what one's future plans may be, a thorough knowledge of English is essential. To those going on to college, the development of a clear and concise style is a goal worth reaching during their high school years.

A new and interesting English program has been introduced at Stadium. Beginning with a study of mythology and historical novels in the sophomore year one progresses to American writers in his junior year, and, finally to English writers in the senior year. Besides the regular English classes, high achievement and advance placement courses are offered to those who show exceptional ability in the subject. This year's trip to the Seattle Repertory Theater to see The Cherry Orchard added another touch of interest.

HISTORY DEPARTMENT . . . The misconception of history as a course of memorization has long since vanished and has been replaced by the more fruitful approach to the subject. History, at the high school level, is designed to encourage students to relate facts and analyze certain situations.

The Stadium Social Studies Department was designed to meet the demands of a diversified group of students. All students are required to take a course in United States History. This gives them a basic knowledge of the principles governing our nation's birth. As seniors, students are required to study the workings of our government through civics. A special two year course has been devised whereby students may elect either Ancient History, Medieval History, Modern History, or Far Eastern History as supplementary history courses.

Presentation changes as knowledge grows

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT . . . A few years ago the understanding of science was left to the intellectual and the "science-minded". But as more and more areas adopt scientific techniques and utilize research findings, a basic knowledge of science by all members of society is becoming a necessity.

Every course in the science department has initiated the new curricular innovations which emphasize more actual lab work rather than simply reading and believing. Also this year, a new physics program for the college-bound students began and was immediately found to be a success.

However, the new program was not the only new addition. Mr. Herigstad and Mr. Nelson joined the science staff for the first time. They both taught courses in biology.

MR. MAX DuBOIS

MATH DEPARTMENT . . . With science increasing in importance, the need for a universal language has placed mathematics on a pedestal among sciences. Though the relationships of mathematics are sought after mostly for their practical applications, mathematicians as a whole still find pleasure in abstract relationships which have purely aesthetic value. The so called "new mathematics" is so common that education in mathematics is without a boundary.

To meet the demands of this new age, the mathematics department of Stadium has been expanded to include more than the traditional courses of general math, geometry, trigonometry, and algebra. For those students who have carried through a regular program of mathematics to their senior year, the concept of sets is introduced. For the accelerated students, a college course in analytic geometry and calculus is offered.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT . . . The importance of international understanding cannot be over-emphasized in this age of world problems. The knowledge one gains from studying a foreign language goes beyond the speaking and comprehension of the language. A class of this type is always accompanied by lectures and reading material on the history and customs of the people, which eventually bring to the student a fuller comprehension of the land and its inhabitants.

Most of the foreign language courses at Stadium are supplemented with visits to the language laboratory. Here ALM tapes in the various languages, Latin, German, French, Spanish, and Russian, are used for drilling purposes in pronunciation and memorization.

Through the exchange program, Stadium, and especially its foreign language department, has been fortunate to have students speak and answer questions about their country.

BUSINESS EDUCATION . . . The business education department offers students practical experience for their future vocations. The courses available to the department's students can be categorized under secretarial, clerical, bookkeeping, and distributive education.

Typing stencils and mimeographing tests are two of the many services offered by this department to the faculty. The various organizations take full advantage of the Business Department by having all printed material made up by the students. Typing the permanent record cards and report cards of each student takes much of the department's time.

Purchasing supplies for the school bookstore and making sales is tended to by the distributive education classes. Earnest effort in these classes can be rewarding in that the students are eligible to participate in inter-city and intra-state Distributive Education activities.

Home Economics to utilize new products

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT . . . Though variously processed ready-to-eat foods have flooded our markets and ready-to-wear garments come in all shapes and sizes, the advantages of a home economics course are quickly realized. People still have individual tastes, and many take pride in displaying this individuality. The course thus becomes a necessity for those interested in further developing their special domestic talents.

In clothing girls begin by making samples of various techniques and stitches they will be using in future projects, and are offered a course in tailoring if they decide to continue.

The foods classes are equally interesting and important. They cover such subjects as nutrition, table-setting, canning, and menu planning, as well as learning to cook.

For the future homemaker such a course will be of value in evaluating new materials with which she will have to work.

The sewing techniques have been carefully followed; a student has the hem measured for the last step in construction.

FINE ARTS . . . Although the modern trend in art and music appears to have left the ordinary individual behind, the basics still lie at the heart of the fine arts. A solid foundation in their area will prove to be useful and will develop appreciation for the "finer things" of life.

Natural talents and interests in the arts are encouraged by Stadium's excellent Music and Art Departments. The outstanding vocal groups, under the direction of Mr. Margelli, have been both numerous and varied. Annually the band, under the direction of Mr. Wheeler, brings honors to Stadium through their outstanding performances at both concerts and halftime shows. The orchestra members, under the direction of Mr. Wright, have accomplished much throughout the year in handling the more difficult string instruments.

The Art and Industrial Art Departments work and study diligently through the year to place interesting works in the new display cases and to present the annual art show to the student body.

GYM CLASSES . . . The importance of well-rounded individuals in today's society cannot be over emphasized. It is the task of modern education not only to develop the mental facilities of students, but also to encourage good sportsmanship and correct physical growth.

When sophomores, students are required to take physical education as part of their graduation requirements. Some who are not as physically fit as their fellow classmates may moan and groan, but the advantages of the course are quickly learned through earnest efforts.

At Stadium, students are fortunate to have faculty members who are interested in giving up their time to conduct after school sports. At 3:00 students are given the opportunity to work together as a team and to learn that vital quality called good sportsmanship.

CUSTODIANS AND COOKS . . . As Stadium becomes larger each year, the role of the custodian becomes more and more important. Anyone who has had a jammed locker or needed a ladder for decorating knows what it would be like without the custodians.

Another integral part of the machinery of Stadium is the kitchen staff which arrives early to prepare hot lunches for the noon meal. What a relief it is to those who forget their lunches at home or to those who do not like cold sandwiches to know that a carefully planned meal is waiting for them.

These are the people who work in the obscure glory of the background to keep Stadium and its students in well running condition.

CUSTODIANS . . . Joseph Harchar, Mel Botnen, Helena Beisans, Arnold Danzer, Jim Paul, Harold Klang, Cecelia Bailey, Del Sutton, Herb Wolff, Swend Madsen.

COOKS . . . Corinne Brock, Margaret Gallvas, Ruth Brennan, Darlene Olson, Sylvia Slater, Bess Gamper, Lea Edwards.

DAFFODIL PRINCESS . . . Each year a senior girl is chosen to represent her school and classmates in Tacoma's daffodil pageant. The pageant lasts for about three months and it all begins on the afternoon when a panel of teachers chooses their three finalists, who then go before a group of judges to be narrowed down to one.

Our princess for 1965 was Diane Lind and she represented us regally at luncheons, teas, programs, interviews, and any other time she stepped before the public's eye. Her speeches were eloquent, and she was at all times well-poised. Most of all, though, Diane fulfilled a dream she had long had.

SENIOR BALL ROYALTY . . . On May 29, 1965, Stadium's graduating class held their Senior Ball at the Brown's Point Club House. The theme of the traditional dance was "Moonlight and Roses".

In early March, however, the members of the senior class selected their royalty by ballot. On that never-to-be-forgotten night in May came the announcement of the winners. Ascending the throne as King was Tom Westerlund. His queen was Pam Smith. The remaining royal court consisted of Prince Lee Brooke, Princess Anne Berglund, Attendant Joey Larsen, Attendant Ginny Neiman, Attendant Steve Sorenson, and Attendant Melody Magnusson.

QUEEN'S CROWN QUEEN . . . For the past five years Stadium has participated in an activity ticket sale with Wilson High School. For the third time in as many years Stadium won. Because of this victory we saw our Queen's Crown candidate regally ascend the throne.

This year's Queen was Kathy Corey. She represented the senior class because of its ability to sell the most activity tickets to its members.

Queen Kathy's coronation marked the end of the eventful week of competition. It also highlighted Stadium's tremendous win over the Wilson football team in the first night game played in our bowl in sixteen years.

HOMECOMING AND JUNIOR PROM

. . . Homecoming Week 1965 was reigned over by Queen Carol A. Larson and her court. They were elected at the beginning of the Week; the coronation took place at the fun-filled dance which climaxed the seven day celebration to welcome home former Stadium students.

Junior Prom royalty, a new innovation this year, was elected by their class one week before the annual dance. Princess Patty Wernick and Prince Bob Christiansen assumed their throne during an unforgettable evening of festivities.

Stadium's yell staff instigates spirit of Tigers;

SONGLEADERS . . . Each songleader this year was an asset to our student body. They attend every game, yet still found time to participate in numerous other activities. Amongst all this were many grueling practices which began soon after their election last spring, and continued right up to our first football game. Their enthusiasm never waned; they continued working out new routines and perfecting old ones for each basketball game throughout the year. Every player recognizes the work and appreciates the efforts they put forth. Our songleaders were thrilled to be a part of helping Stadium students cheer their teams on in the Grid-Go-Round, Turkey Day Game, and Hoop-Go-Round, and to be a part of making Stadium's renown enthusiastic spirit.

equaling victorious seasons for all our teams!

CHEERLEADERS . . . Stadium's cheerleaders have always been known throughout the state for their outstanding ability and vitality. This year was no exception; they ranked high above other school yell staffs in Washington. They, like the songleaders, worked hard all year promoting games, attending pep club, participating in school and class activities, and encouraging the great school spirit. These four outstanding students were so friendly and peppy that everyone caught their enthusiastic spirit!

They also represented us well at pep conferences during the summer and throughout the year. Our first hosts were West Bremerton and our pep staff spent the day at the Wildcat's school exchanging ideas on yells, routines, and how to generate school spirit.

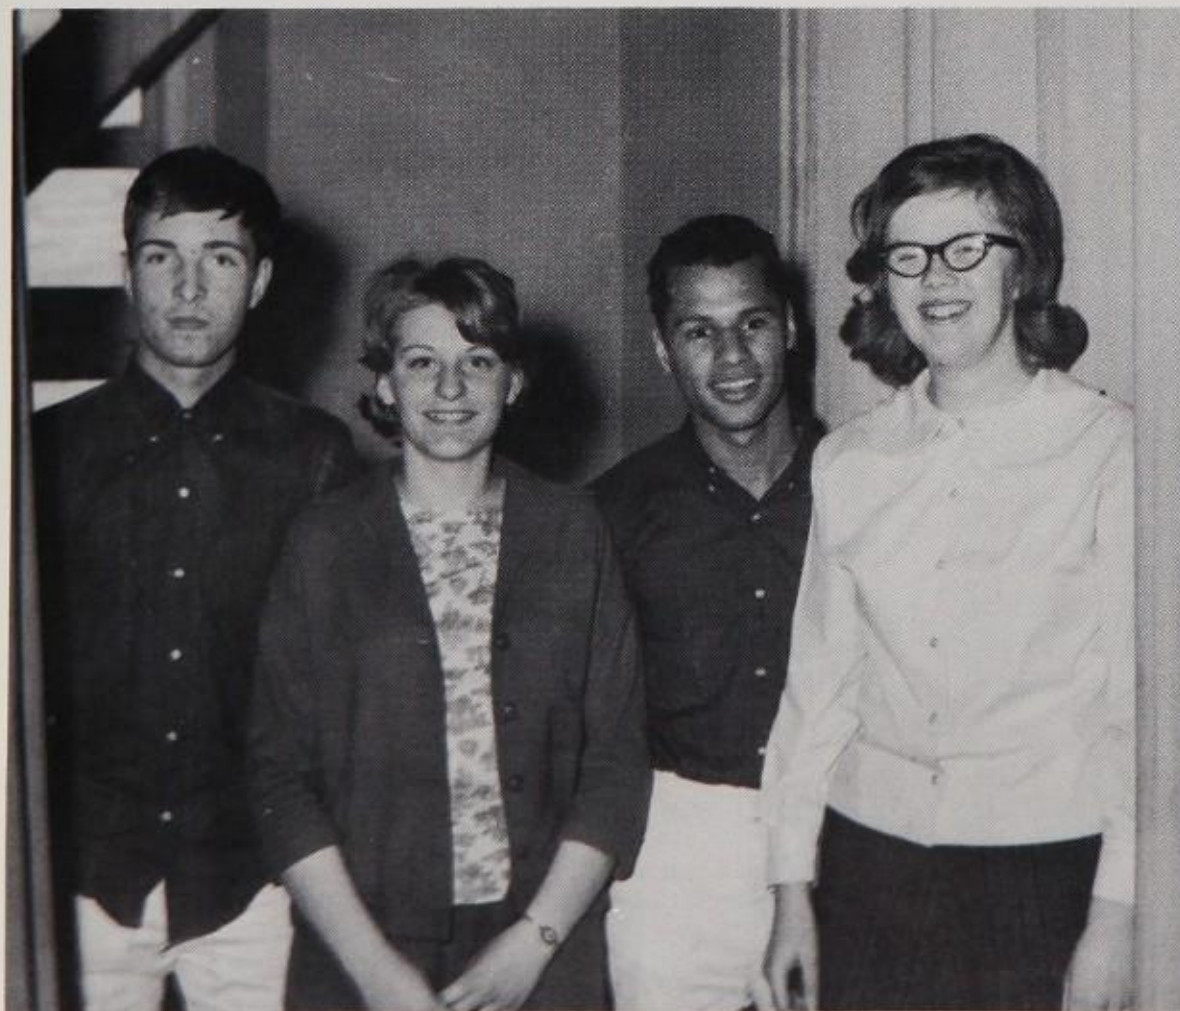

"Actors Guild" upholds theatrical tradition in the production of two exceptional plays

Mr. Parber: Drama director, advisor, and leader, concentrates on achieving perfection in every member.

Two plays were produced this year by Stadium's Drama enthusiasts.

The curtain went up for the performance of the first play, "Lady in a Cage" in mid-winter, and the curtain call for "Charley's Aunt" by Brandon Thomas, the second play, was in late spring. Both plays were successes; credit is due not only the fine cast and capable director, but also, to those students who donated both time and effort on make-up, costumes, scenery, and publicity. These jobs, though, rarely recognized are indispensable. Without them, the play would never go on. Of course, the real success of a play lies in the hard work and determination of the actors themselves. Weeks of school rehearsals and hours of memorization are spent by each one, with the full realization of their importance. And, because everyone was willing, Stadium had two fine school plays this year.

P. Click, assistant stage manager, L. Quackenbush, student director, M. Wilson, stage manager, R. Schilling, student director are vital drama enthusiasts behind scenes.

TALENT . . . This year we of the Tahoma Staff have decided to give recognition to talented seniors—not only in the usually recognized areas, but in all fields. To this end, we have included individuals from the instrumental, vocal, art, and shop departments. These individuals were selected by the faculty heads of the respective departments. Making the choice of just which students would appear was very difficult indeed; in some cases there were many candidates, in others there were only a few.

The students who appear on these pages have shown not only their abilities within their special fields, but also an eager willingness to learn about all facets of the fine arts. They exemplify the finest of the artistic ability that Stadium has to offer.

CHOIR AND MADRIGALS . . . The Acapella Choir began their year with the annual Christmas Concert and continued on to sing in various other programs; such as: the annual Thanksgiving Day, Christmas, Memorial Day, and Easter Programs, graduation ceremonies and exercises, and numerous other school assemblies. This outstanding agenda was successfully completed only with the whole-hearted participation and hard work of each one of the eighty choir members.

Madrigals, another hard working group, composed of seventeen students and Mr. Margelli, was started around 1959, and since has grown to notorious fame. They perform songs composed by many of the old world composers, in authentic costumes from medieval England. Their itinerary this year included a full Spring Concert, performed both here and in Seattle, a program at the Alderbrook Inn on Hoods Canal, the Mother-Daughter Tea, and numerous assemblies.

With his well-known vim and enthusiasm, Mr. Paul Margelli inspires students on to bigger and better achievements in the world of music.

our Stadium Orchestra in perfection.

Early morning rehearsals are part of the preparations for the many performances.

ORCHESTRA . . . The Stadium Orchestra, which could often be found busily practicing early in the morning—about 7:30 a.m.—has a complete membership of thirty-one. These thirty-one, in their Winter, Christmas, and Spring concerts, produced the very refined and graceful sound of music characteristic of an excellent orchestra. However, they weren't limited to concerts; they also competed in two contests, one of which was held in Auburn. In late Spring, the orchestra made their annual tour of the city's junior high schools and played a concert at each. In January, a contingent of professors from Washington State University, including the music department head, came to Stadium to "teach for a day" and hold a general music seminar which our orchestra attended.

Orchestras are usually known for their beautiful performances of classical music. Stadium High School's orchestra is very versatile, and in their performances played not only this classical music, but also variations of semi-classical and popular music.

It took many rehearsals to produce as fine an orchestra as we have, but it takes more than a complete effort on the part of every member to produce a successful group. It also takes a qualified and dedicated director. We were fortunate to have just such a man—Mr. C. Irvin Wright.

BAND, MAJOR AND MAJORETTES . . . Stadium's outstanding bands were very busy this year: the Concert Band playing in their annual Winter and Spring Concerts and various assemblies; the Pep Band playing in pep assemblies and all basketball and football games; the Marching Band playing in Daffodil and Veterans' Day Parades and half-time entertainments. The bands did not participate in any contests this year because they were chosen to represent our school in the All Northwest Music Concert in Portland, on March 31. Only three bands were chosen to receive this honor from all the high schools in Colorado, California, Oregon, Idaho and Washington.

The Major and Majorettes were also very busy. They performed with the band in the Daffodil Parade, at the U. of W. Band Day, Turkey Day Game, and Grid-Go-Round. The Majorettes had some excellent new routines this year; such as, their torch-batons—during basketball season—soft-shoe, and sailor.

Stadium band selected as one of five high school bands in the state to participate in U of W - Air Force halftime program.

STADIUM'S EMINENT BAND DIRECTOR: Mr. Joe Wheeler.

BAND ACTIVITIES . . . To be asked to march in a Husky half-time entertainment program at the University of Washington, is an outstanding honor. Through the combined efforts of every band member throughout the years, our band was selected to participate. This was, however, not the only marching the Stadium band performed. They had key parts in the Veterans Day Parade, Santa Claus Parade (Seattle's as well as Tacoma's), and the Daffodil Parade. A trip to Canada to compete with other Northwest bands was next, and to close the year, they played at Commencement Exercises.

But, as every band member will agree, none of their outstanding accomplishments could be achieved without the apt direction of Mr. Joe Wheeler, Stadium High School's band director.

Tigerannas; a picture of spirit and vim!

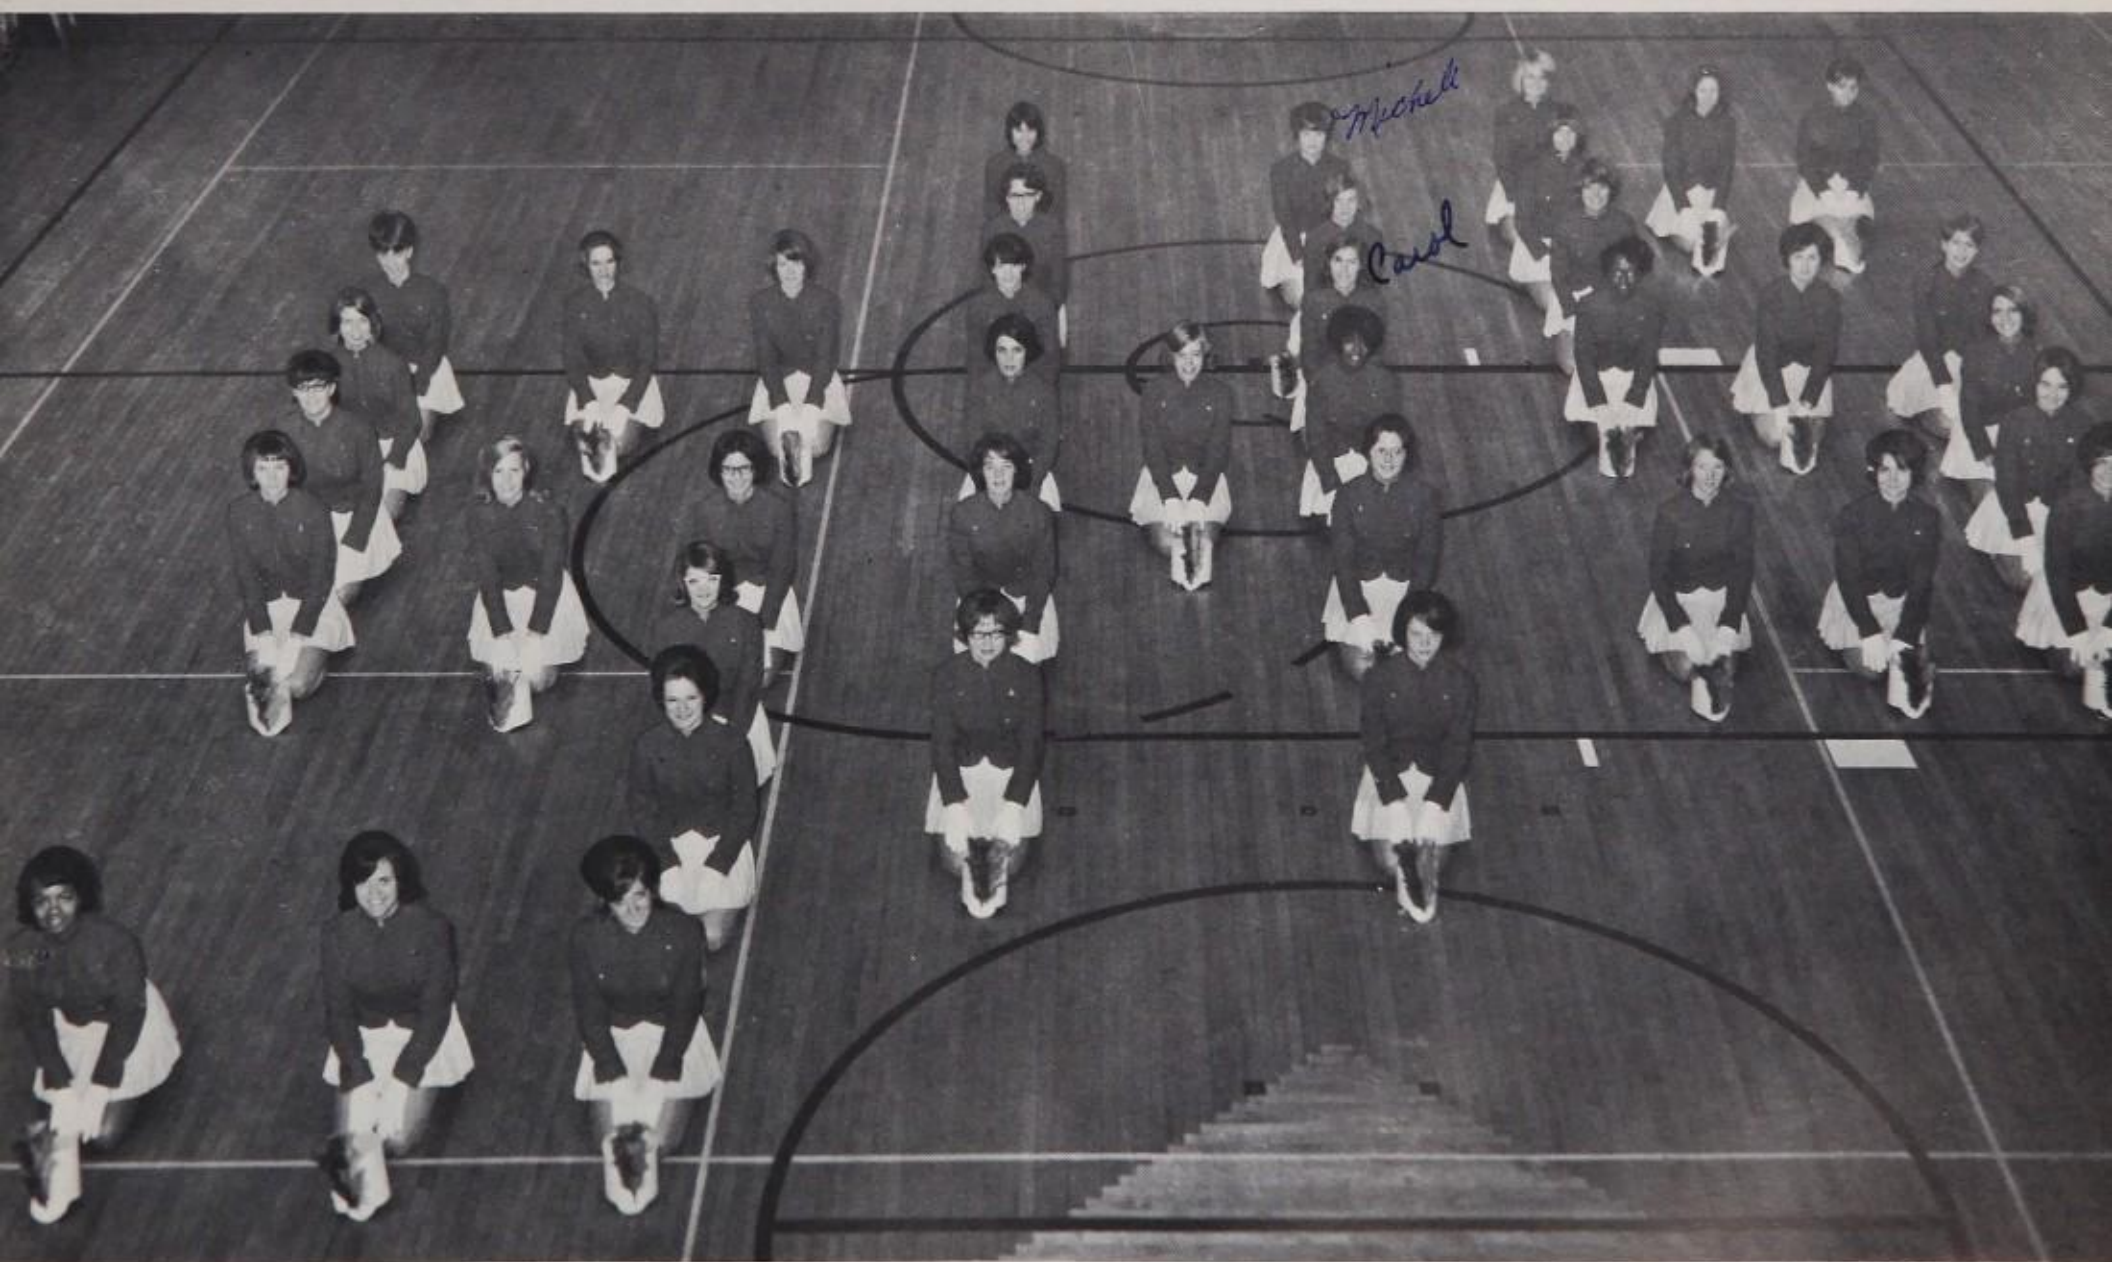

TIGERANNAS . . . Attending 7:00 a.m. practices, going to every game, participating in every half-time show, are just a few of the "sacrifices" that each Tigeranna member must make throughout basketball and football seasons. To be able to be a success and represent a school well, a drill team must practice hours upon end. This is what our girls have done for us.

Besides marching in half-time shows at home football and basketball games, Tigerannas were called on to march at the annual Turkey Day Game, Daffodil Parade, and at various other noted events.

The girls are chosen by Miss Minton and the past Tigeranna board at the end of their sophomore or junior year. This year the group consisted of just about half junior and half seniors. They began practicing during the summer, and continued to the end of basketball season.

The incorporation of clever and original ideas ... an achievement of our Fall World Staff

FALL WORLD STAFF . . . Roll the presses! This was the cry heard 'round Stadium's newspaper room as another edition of the World went to the printers.

The fall staff started their year off in a big way as a full picture spread commemorating the "night the lights went on in our bowl" graced their front page. The Yule Season officially arrived when they presented to the student body their Christmas issue with the front page decorated in traditional red and green, and copy printed in different forms and types. The staff outdid themselves when it came to new ways of presenting old articles. They also managed to solve the traditional stigma of the monotony of advertising by having that section much better organized.

The tremendous amount of work during the long, tedious hours and the making of countless decisions were all done under the capable leadership of the fall editor, Sue Chemidlin. Mr. Harvey Albrecht was the staff advisor; he devoted many helpful hours to the cause of the publication.

SPRING EDITOR

SPRING WORLD . . . A hard-working staff and editor kept the spring issues of the World up to the standards set by the fall staff. They, too, had new ideas and techniques, original methods of presentation, and the addition of a column honoring a senior boy and girl as Stadium student stand-outs.

Unlike working on regular newspapers, it is the job of the World staff members not only to gather information and write their columns, but also to fold and distribute each finished copy. On "paper days" the staff was never idle since they had to distribute issues to every classroom throughout the building.

Joyce Parker, spring editor, kept an eye on the "affairs of the press", making sure that all the important items were reported to the students. It's not easy to keep a staff running efficiently; to get out an accurate paper takes time and effort. The production involves each member of the staff. And, though usually the praise or the blame for the finished product rests on the shoulders of the editor, all feel strongly attached to the newspaper that consumed many of the day's few hours.

TAHOMA STAFF . . . It has been the endeavor of the 1965 TAHOMA Staff to bring to you an All-American annual, the highest honor bestowed on a yearbook. To achieve this goal we have incorporated several "firsts" into our format — a photo essay, centralization on group shots, deletion of formal poses, and more informative and pertinent copy. Careful planning went into each section, careful consideration into each decision, and many hours into the writing of each word and the taking of each picture. Always foremost in our minds was you, the student, whose book this would eventually become.

The staff sincerely hopes that this product, so final in black and white, will be the cause of a laugh, a smile, and perhaps a tear as you remember your life at Stadium High School.

Dear Andrew,

Golly there's not enough room in this whole book to say all I want to. You've been so nice to me this year & everything.
 I can't tell you how glad I am to know you.
 You're my very favorite upper classman. We've had some good times & some sad ones.

I guess you've got to see me when I'm real happy & peppy. It's been a rough year for me, but you've helped me out a whole lot. Let me tell you that I'll never quite understand you, though.

It's been great having you in trig.
this year. I never would have made it through that class if you hadn't been there

Two to inspire me, etc.

May struggle

For joy

For ecstasy.

And thus

May each

Discover

His spirit

Strong within.

Strong within.
You better be in one (or more) of my classes next year. I don't know if I can be that lucky, though. I figure I have about 1 chance in 2 of getting you in Algebra 445, but with my luck, well, who knows.

I hope I see you this summer sometime. I'll maybe go out to Dash Point and go pypo-boarding & stuff. Of course you can always watch for me in the paper ^{you} _{gave}

I want to wish you the best of luck & happiness in the future. That stuff just comes naturally to you, but I'll still wish it on ya. You've made a great impression on me Andrea. I'll never forget you as long as I live. I just hope I have done half as much for you as you have done for me. Keep smiling, and may God bless you and your family.

Love always,

Tom

VARSITY FOOTBALL . . . Experience, desire and enthusiasm of the varsity team provided Stadium fans with the most exciting football in many years. Their initiative carried them to success—the 1964 Grid-Go-Round title.

Playing under our own lights for the first time in sixteen years, the Tigers triumphed over arch-rival Wilson, 6-0. They also bested Bellarmine, 20-0, and thus began a triumphal march toward two championship crowns.

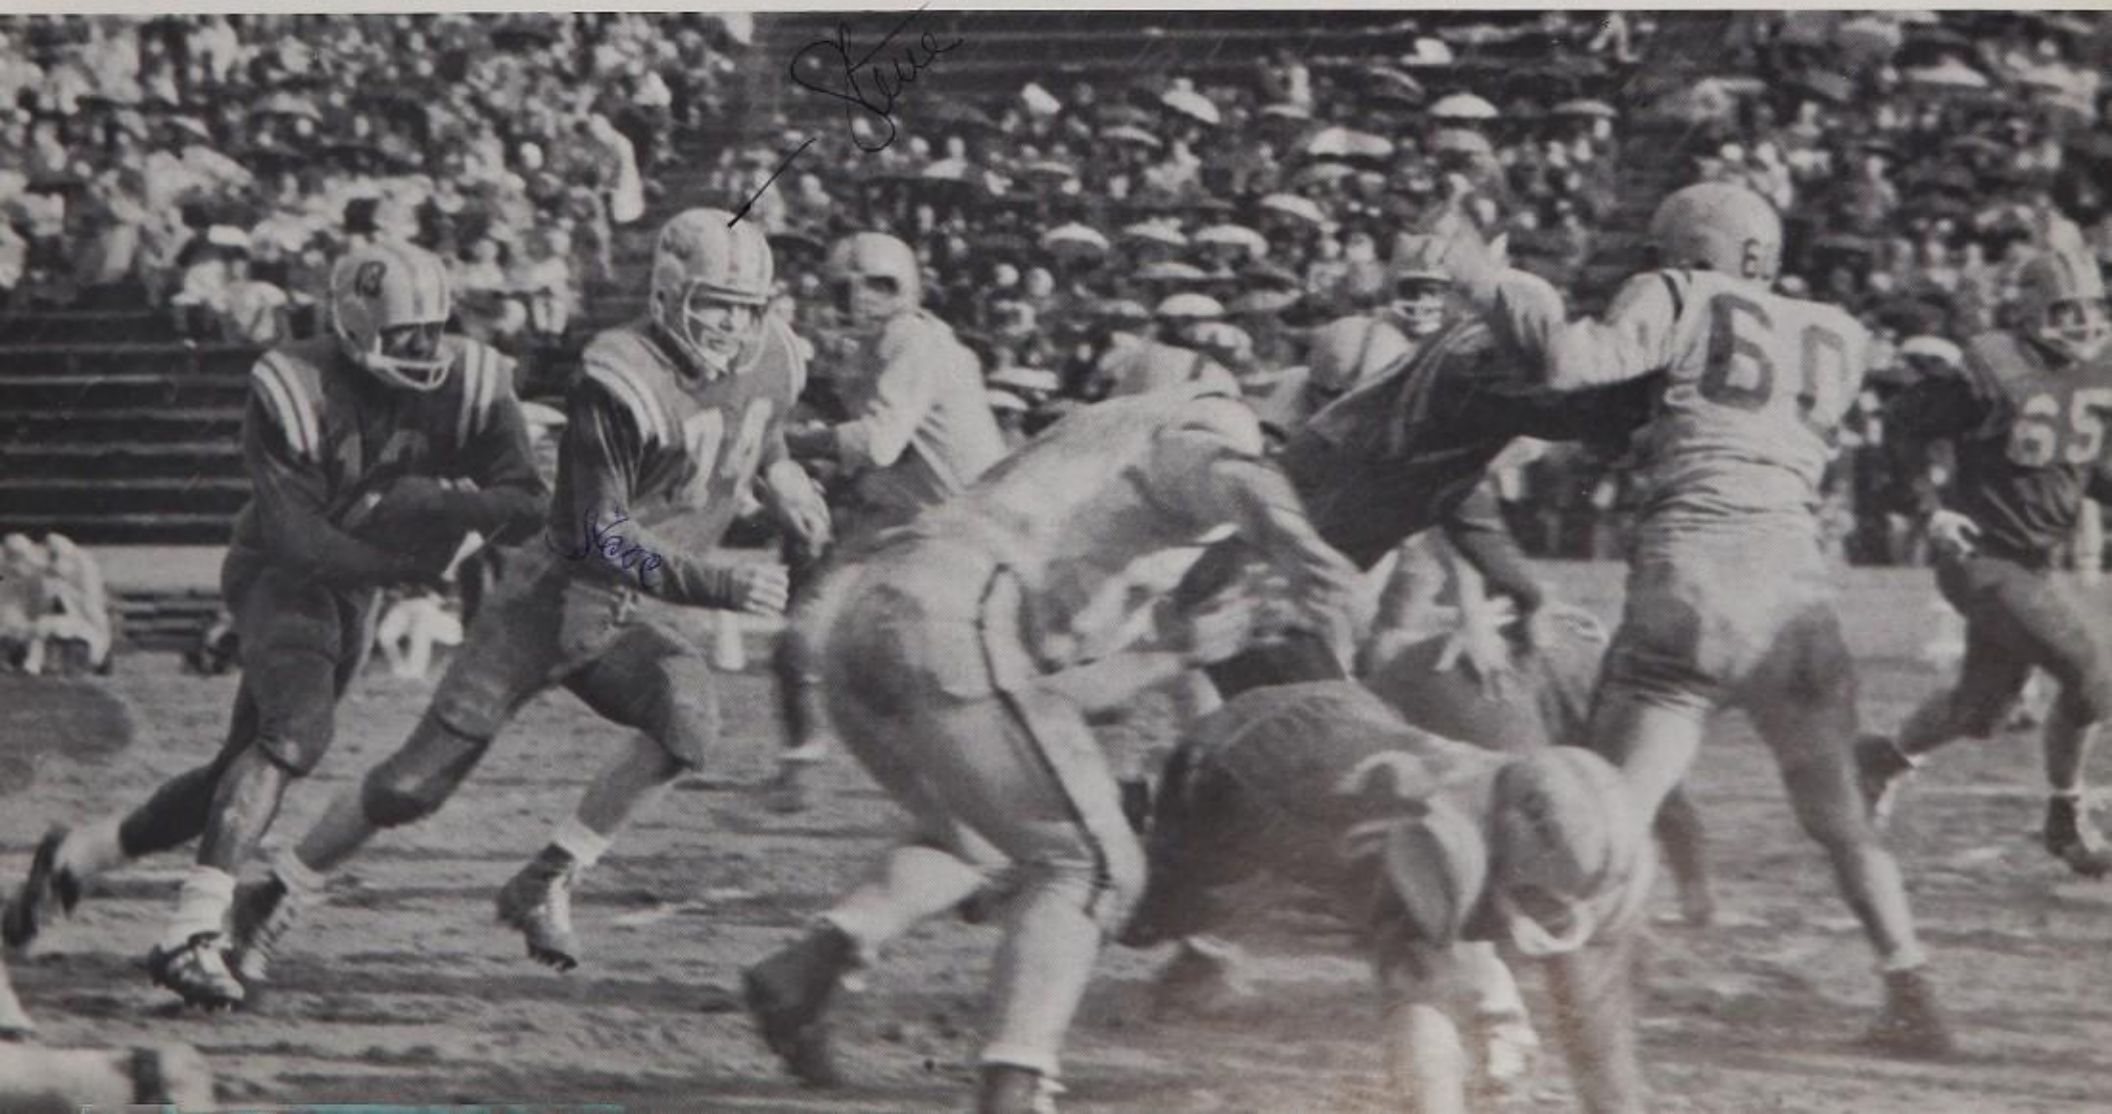

Stadium suffered back to back defeats in losing to Everett, 6-7, and West Bremerton, 0-16, in games played away from home. The Tigers roared back with a 6-0 victory over Mt. Tahoma, and made it four straight in City League action by “bombing” Lincoln, 19-0.

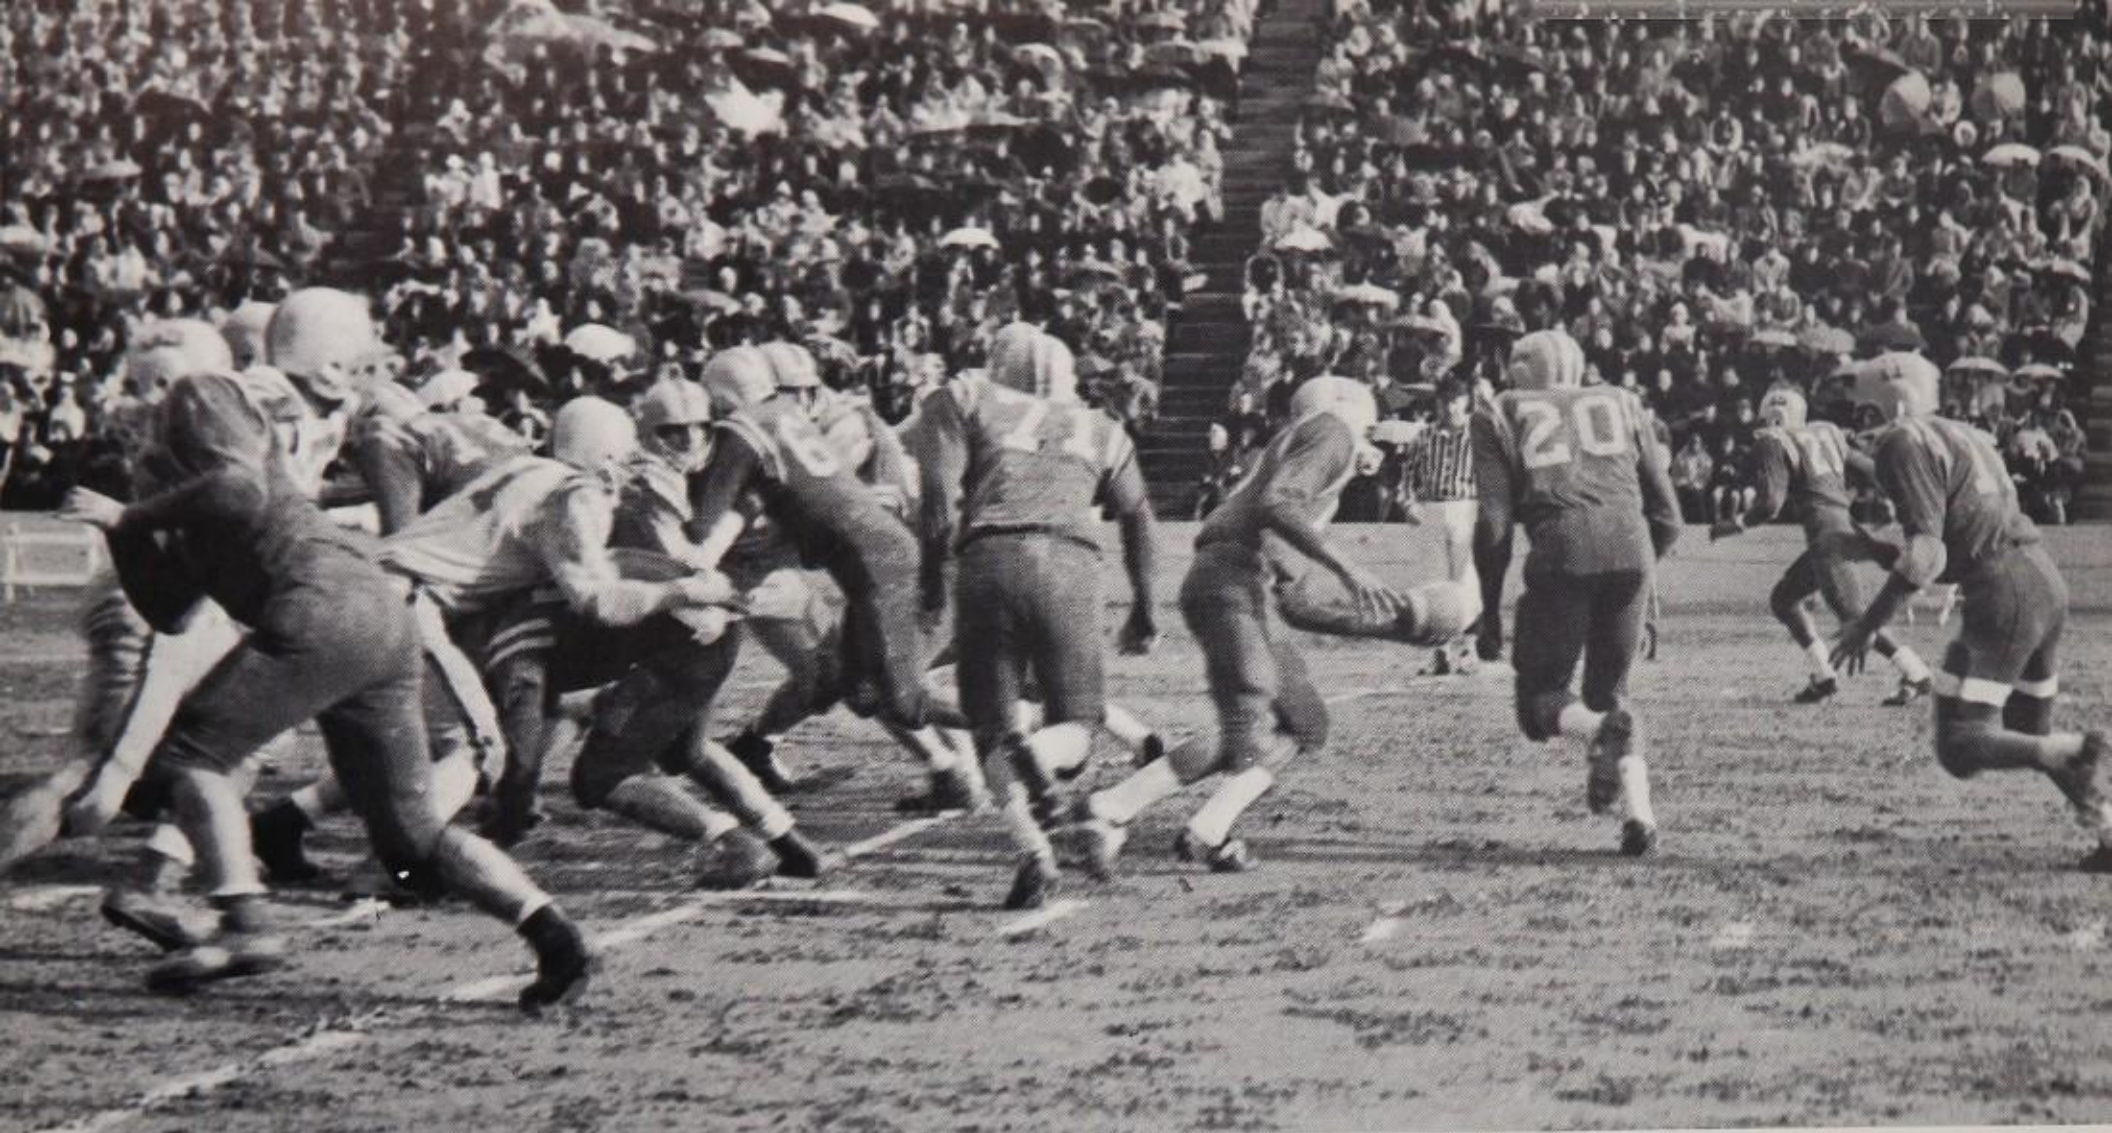

Our victors closed the regular season with a monopolizing win over Cascade of Everett, 26-0.

In the season finale, the “mighty” Tigers again met Lincoln in the Thanksgiving Day classic. Stadium edged Lincoln during the last thirty-five seconds with a desperation play, and posted a 14-13 score. It was one of the most thrilling displays of football ever seen in the city of Tacoma.

Tiger offense displays excellent execution as quarter-back Bob Botley (10) hands off to fullback Phelon Cole (20).

HONORS . . . Though Stadium was fortunate in possessing an increasing number of outstanding individuals, only a few were honored with selection on the 1964 All City football team. Tom Benedetti, offensive guard and defensive linebacker; Richard Smith, offensive halfback and defensive halfback; Mike Irwin, defensive end; and Phelon Cole, defensive linebacker were selected on the first eleven. Those named on the second team were: Carl Miraldi, offensive tackle and defensive guard; Bob Botley, offensive quarter-back; Phelon Cole, offensive fullback; and Ed Smith, defensive halfback.

Richard Smith broke an all-time City and Capital League record when he ran back a punt ninety yards during our first meeting against Lincoln. Bob Botley holds the record for the most touchdown passes thrown in a career. He also tied the record for the most touchdown passes thrown in one game. As a team, the Tigers tied the record for not allowing a point in city play.

Phelon Cole was elected honorary captain at the football banquet. He was also the inspirational award winner. Halfback Ed Morris was cited as the best improved player, while Carl Miraldi was named best blocker and Tom Benedetti and Phelon Cole were best tacklers.

Rough and ready Reserves rate respect; Seasoned Sophomores strong in spirit

RESERVE FOOTBALL . . . Reserve football, under coaches Ted Kintz and Herb Godfrey, greatly helped the varsity team by playing the opposition in the practice sessions. The reserve team, which had a six game schedule of their own, consisted of those players who were unable to participate in enough varsity action to earn a varsity letter.

There were many outstanding individuals who will become exceedingly important in next year's varsity plans. Among these individuals that gave reserve football fans plenty of excitement were: Dan Strand, fullback; Steve Johnson, quarterback; and Bernard Johnson, halfback. Several talented linemen gained valuable experience in reserve football. They included Bruce Roberts and Joe Verone, guards; Greg Gardner and Nick Perovich, tackles; and Tom Hillyard and Bob Wasp, ends.

SOPHOMORE FOOTBALL . . . Sophomore football members practiced diligently every night as understudies of the varsity and reserves. Led by Coaches D. L. Johnson and Del Woelfle, the players were drilled through the same maneuvers the varsity team performed. This was to insure their knowledge of the fundamentals and play patterns when they become varsity material.

Sophomore football provided an opportunity for eager individuals to learn to work together as a single body, to gain experience, and to produce good sportsmanship. Though they witnessed a winless season, their enthusiasm never failed; they continued toward their ultimate goal of becoming varsity players.

Coaches Johnson and Woelfle will anxiously await future news of the fine group of boys with which they had been associated during this past season.

VARSITY BASKETBALL . . . This year's hoopsters were under the authority of a new general on the bench, Mr. Max DuBois. With this leadership the Tigers compiled a 12-8 record, and the traditional fast moving, exciting, winning ways remained. Though the 1965 team didn't have any Sloans, Williamses, Names, or Grants, stars of the past, they did show increasing ability to work together to pull out victories.

Ball handling and rebounding were important assets in determining the outcome of many games. The scoring punch was divided equally among team members with forward Phelon Cole and guards Bob Botley and Lee Brooke being most consistant in putting the ball through the twine. Centers Gordy Sandstrom and Roger Wasp and forwards Johnny Merrill and Phelon Cole shared rebounding honors throughout the season. Coming off the bench when needed to pick up the slack were guards Travis Thorn and Rich Smith and forwards Mike Irwin and Excel Cain.

During the early stretch of the campaign the Tigers scored six victories in a row to stay in contention for league title. Key games of the season were the rubber game against Wilson and the third meeting with Mount Tahoma. Stadium won the Wilson game 69-55 to salvage second place in both the City and Capital leagues; they lost to the undefeated T-Birds 50-55.

RESERVE BASKETBALL . . . Basketball fans can look forward with pleasure to future Stadium basketball teams if the playing of the reserve team continues as it did this year. Throughout the season enthusiasts came early to the varsity games in order to follow the thrilling play of the reserves. In every winning effort the "junior varsity" played a man-to-man defense and a fast break offense characteristic of the varsity team.

Under coach Joseph Kosai, in his first reserve season, the Tigers completed a successful season with a 10-7 record, including a non-league win over Mount Tahoma. Their schedule was similar to that of the varsity except that they did not play when the varsity performed at U.P.S.

Grabbing important rebounds under the boards were Ed Horn, Rick Keely, and Greg Lewis. Sharpshooters providing much of the scoring were Charles White, Richardo Johnson, and Ed Horn. Relieving them for a well-deserved rest were ball handlers Bruce Robison and Bill Bailey, rebounder Levele Whitten, and defensemen Ed Smith and Blaine Walker. This cast of players should fill important roles in the production of varsity basketball next year.

SOPHOMORE GOLDS . . . Under a new coach, Mr. Norm Borell, the Sophomore Golds were Sophomore League champions. Preparing enthusiastically and working hard to achieve their goal, the golds compiled a 13-1 record. They performed, for the most part, on home maps, which gave them an added incentive. Their only loss came at the hands of the Wilson Blues at an away-from-home game.

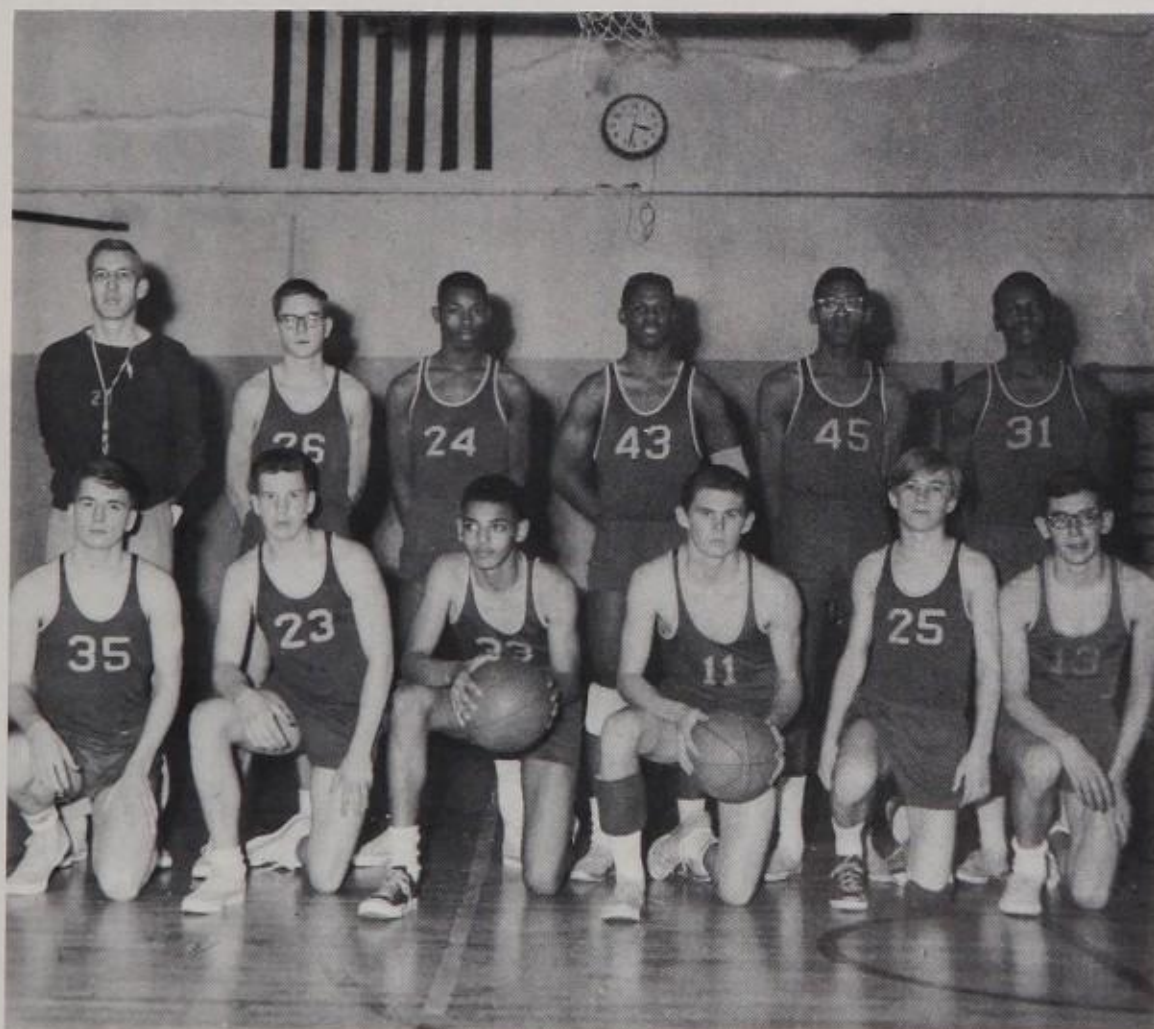

Working under a set offensive and a man to man defense the golds became confident and poised as their string of victories lengthened. Most important to them was the fact that they beat their counterparts, the Blues, by 50-40 and 37-34 scores. Mr. Borell's crew anxiously awaited each game and saw their foes go down in defeat before their enthusiastic and hustling young squad.

Led by the excellent hoopsters Tom Hilyard, Jolyon Raymond, Ernie Huft, Brian Lindeman and Randy Malanca, the Golds practiced endlessly, working out the fundamentals used by the varsity and reserve teams so that when they become varsity material they will be acquainted with their patterns and ready to lead another successful season.

SOPHOMORE BLUES . . . The first training of the basketball "farm system" at Stadium begins with sophomore basketball. Sophomore basketball offers boys a chance for experience, learning, and maturity by performing the fundamentals of Stadium basketball. Aiding the first year students was coach Dwayne Westlin. Under his commands the Blues compiled a 9-5 mark in the Sophomore League play.

Gaining valuable ground by learning to work together, the Blues finished near the top of the standings as has been the traditional pattern set before them. Desire and determination play important roles for sophomore cagers as they must wait for use of the gym following varsity and reserve practices.

A well balanced team is necessary in team effort and this characteristic was possessed by Westlin's Blues. Most of the offensive power rested in the efforts of Ellis Cain, Wilburt Burns, and Moses Bobo. The valuable defensive strength was formed from Bob Wasp, Burns and Cain. Jim Twedt rounded the first five team members. This corps showed they wanted to learn and they will be given a chance by participating in the basketball program next year.

Tiger fish go to school, perennial homework: second in city and state

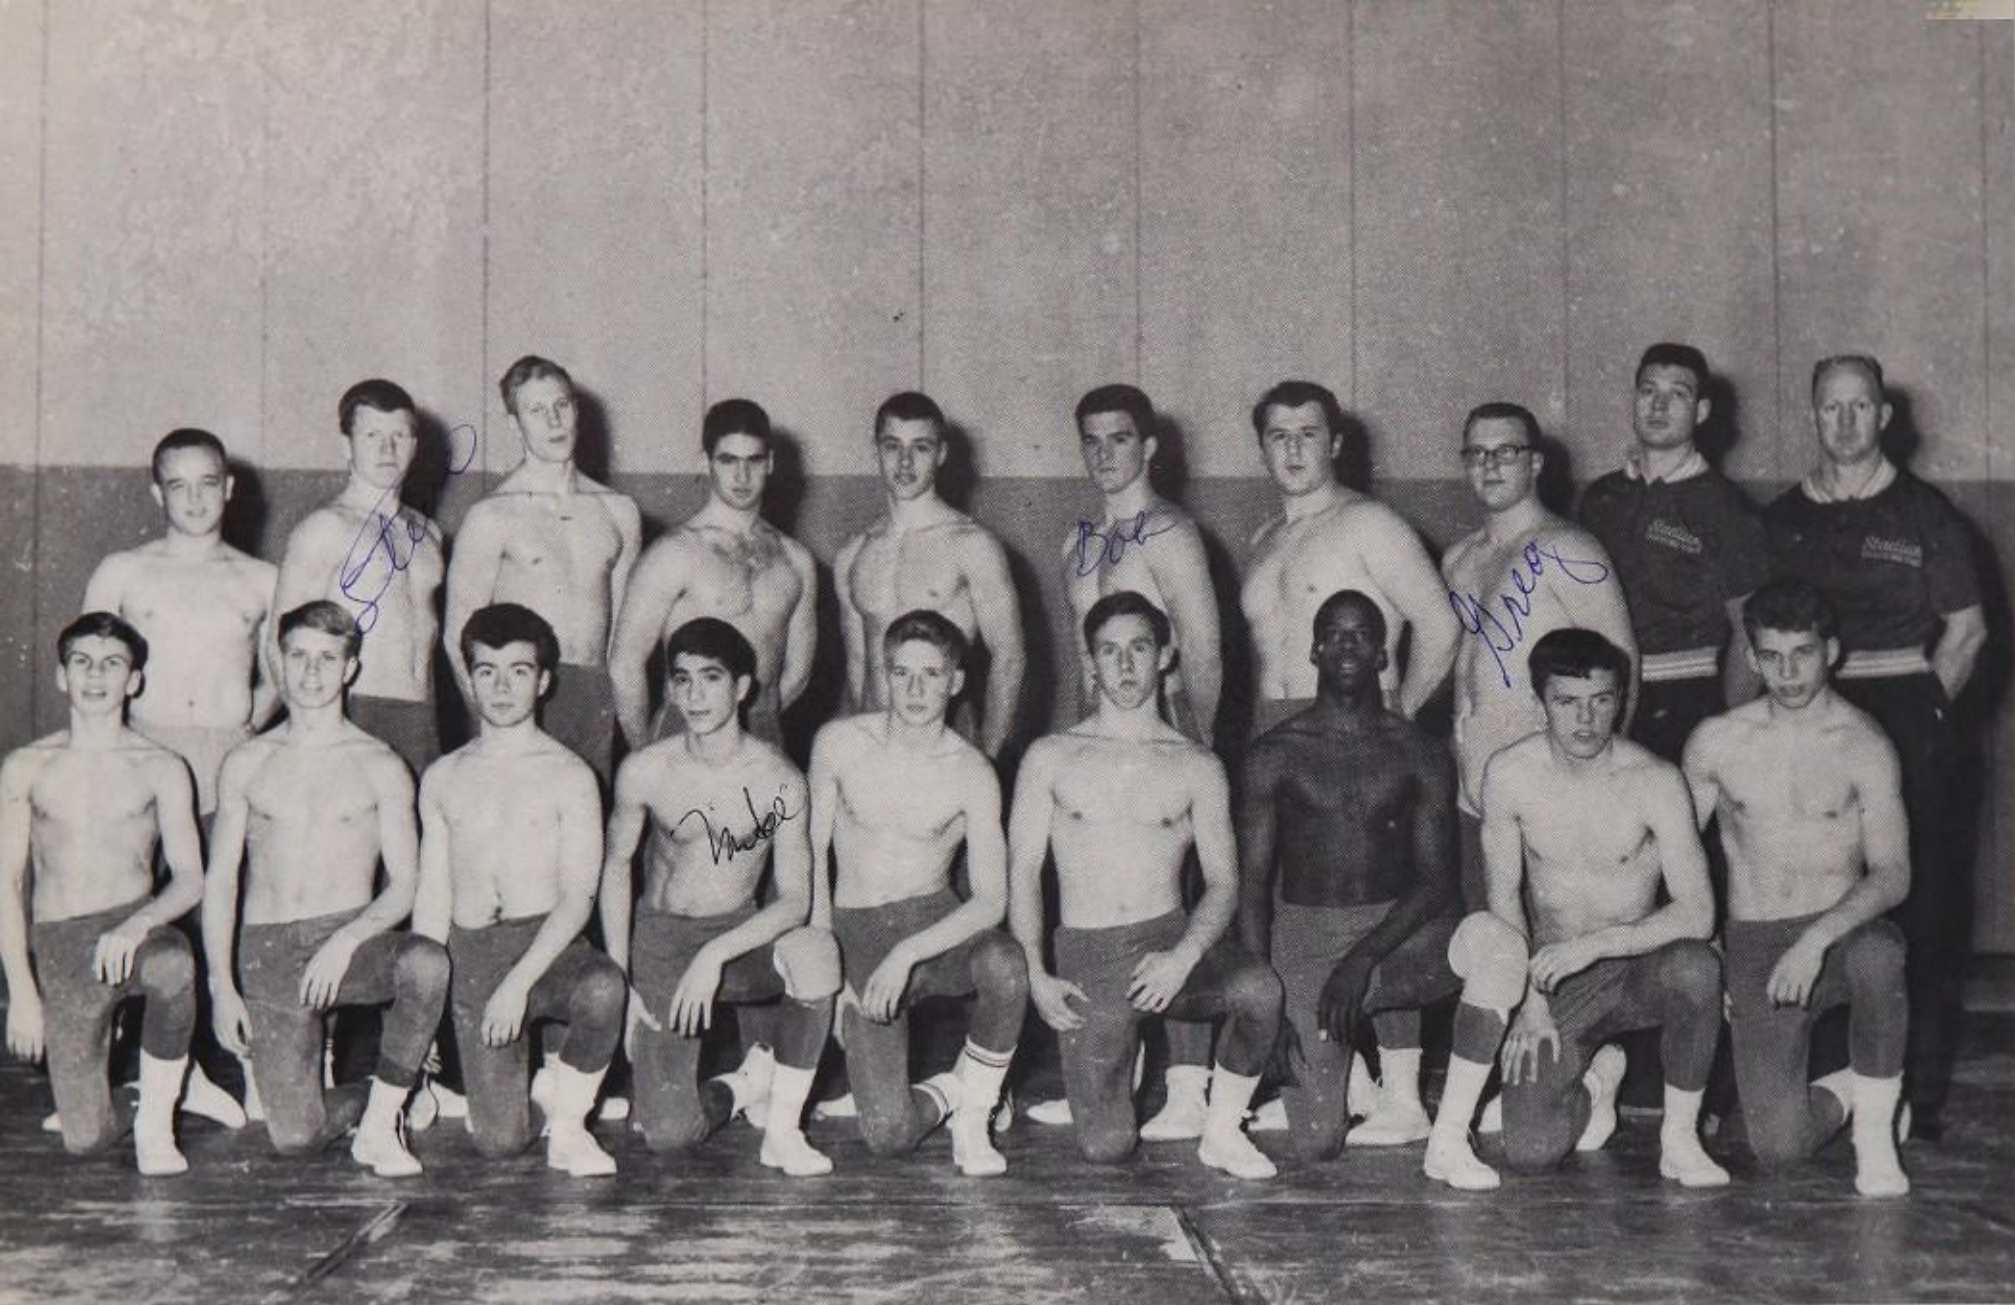

VARSITY SWIMMING — Beginning in September by conditioning with weights, workouts, and water polo, and ending in February with the State meet, the Tiger mermen had a season of well-deserved success. Building around the seven lettermen back from last year, Coach George Engelland's "fish" exemplified the traditional excellence and determination set by past Stadium swimmers.

Led by co-captains Glenn Carlson and Carl Rutherford, the Tigers finished second in both the City and State meets behind powerful crosstown rival Wilson. Trying to overcome the success of the Tigers were such teams as the UW Frosh, Olympia, Bellevue, Highline, and the WSU Frosh. The highlight of the regular season was the victory in the T-Bird Relays in which the mermen took first in every event.

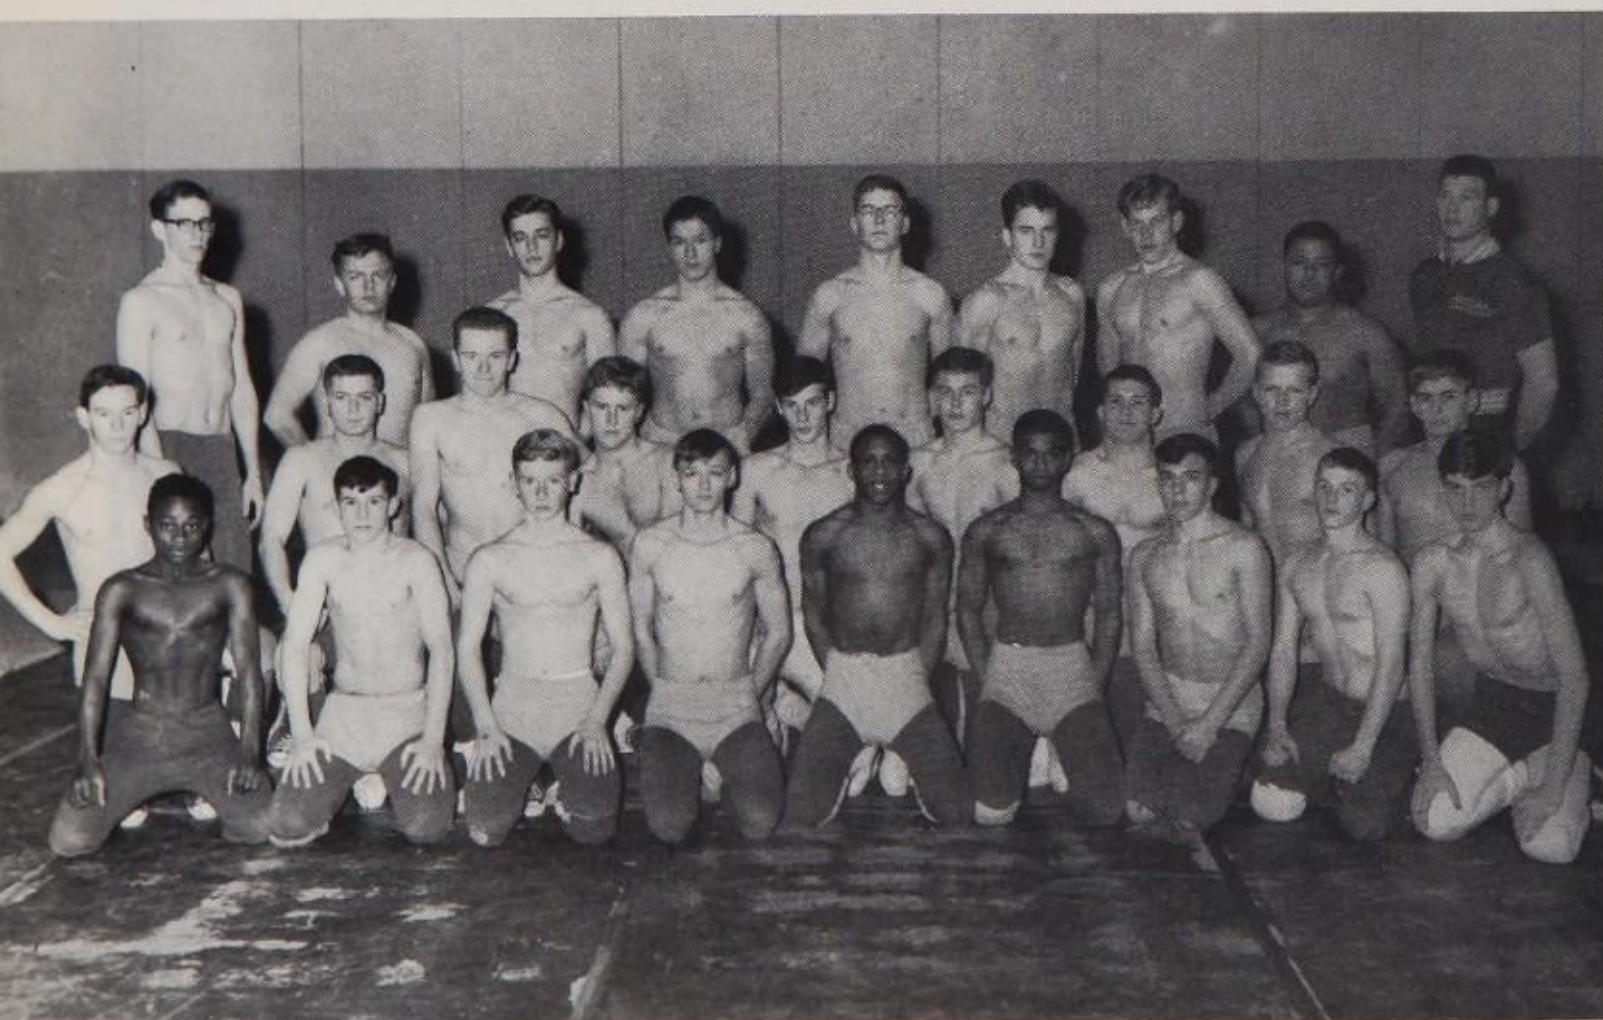

High School All American Carl Rutherford's victories in the 200-Individual Medley and 100-Free, and Mark Morrill's upset victory in the 1-meter diving provided the spark in the state meet.

VARSDITY WRESTLING . . . Stadium's grapplers, under head coach Mr. Herb Godfrey for the last four years, captured their fourth straight City League and District championships and their third Capital League crown in four seasons. With 8-0 and 9-0-1 records in the City and Capital Leagues respectively, the Tigers dominated league action.

Stadium qualified seven of its twelve members for the State tournament. Leading the Tigers to the University of Washington were co-captains Don Wonders (115), Mike D'Antuano (123), co-captain Ron Jakes (136), his third representation, Tom Mack (141), Fred Cook (148), Steve Mikkelsen (168), and co-captain Tom Benedetti (178). Also supplying fans with added excitement during regular season action were Wayne Hoff (106), Jim Slonaker (130), who had the misfortune of dislocating his knee late in the competition, Dan Kestler (157), Bob Hunt (194), and Lowell Munday (unlimited).

VARSITY BASEBALL . . . Head coach, Ted Kintz, welcomed back ten lettermen from last year's squad which finished second in the City League. Aiding Mr. Kintz with his duties this year was Assistant Coach Paul Martin. After greeting an array of talent, veterans and rookies alike, the coaches began rough practice sessions to prepare the team for the upcoming campaign. The Tigers were eager to show their ability and to prove that they were contenders for the title.

Playing their home games at Jefferson Park and Heidleberg Field, the Tigers met the likes of South Kitsap, Federal Way, Clover Park, Puyallup, and their City and Capital League opponents. Stadium also participated in the Diamond-Go-Round at Cheney Stadium near the close of the season.

Providing much of the power needed to bring many valuable runs across the plate were catchers Jerry Hicks and Bill Paton; infielders Rick Smith, Fred Cook and Paul Thompson; and outfielders Ed Smith, Dick Marzano, Ray Hanson, Ron Jakes and Gary Krenzler. Preventing the opponents from hitting the ball were pitchers Lee Brooke, Tom Foster, Mike Irwin, and Jim Stewart.

The Stadium roster experienced many winning combinations and won their games with teamwork and hustle while dodging the spring rain, wind, and flying bats.

Tiger Trackmen uphold Grecian Tradition . . . prevail in track and field competitions VARSITY TRACK . . . This year's cindermen again set the standard as one of the strongest teams in the state. Under the training of head coach Bob Levinson, in his nineteenth year as track mentor, and distance running coach Dwayne Westlin, the Tigers were well drilled and conditioned in the know-how of running a race or performing in the field events.

The tracksters were invited to participate in many local meets such as the Highline and Daffodil Relays and the Clover Park Invitational. They also were favored to take City and Capital honors as the result of league meets.

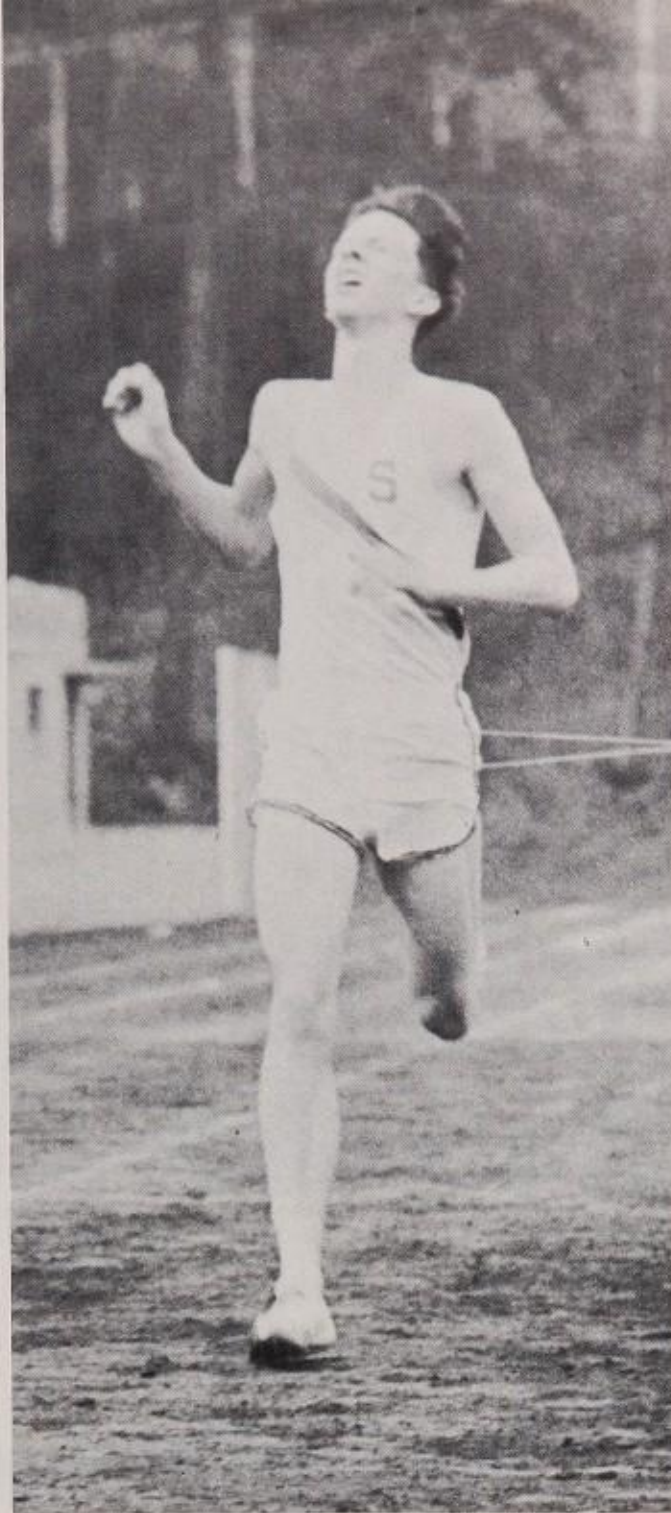

Pacing the Tiger squad through their contests were sprinters Ed Morris, Harry Walker, and Charles White; hurdlers Jim Booth, Phelon Cole, and White; distance runners Reggie Dillon, Robert Williams, Ron Sitts and Ed Miller; discus and shot put throwers Bob Hunt, Carl Miraldi, Tom Benedetti, and Cole; pole vaulter Steve Manos; broad jumper Jim Josey; and high jumper Harry Walker.

Bob Wasp hands baton to Tom Leonard as opponents fall far behind.

Junior Bob Hunt strains to get off a good toss in the discus.

Ron Sitts legs out the distance in the mile marathon in the Lincoln Bowl.

Pole vaulter Nick Perovich, clears the bar for another successful vault.

Harry Walker, senior high jumper, flies over the bar to win his event.

VARSDITY GOLF . . . With only one letterman back from last year's golf team, Coach Max Dubois faced a strengthening and an improving process in building a leading team. As they met the always tough city opponents, the Tigers fielded a team with good depth and outstanding ability.

After qualifying rounds to determine the members of the squad, the golfers practiced Mondays and Fridays in preparation for their matches. They played those matches on courses throughout the city but practiced on their home course, Allenmore Golf Course.

Stroking from tee to green with extreme accuracy and placement were team members Chuck Morris, the only returnee, Jeff Neal, Larry Kuciernba, Peter Guzzo, and Jay Stern, who had lettered as a sophomore but was hampered by illness last year.

The sun was a valuable tool in the play of the golfers; battling the wind, rain and darkness often limited their practice. Despite the battle with the elements of nature, the season was successfully completed.

Netmen possess great depth and ability ... "serve" as state tournament favorites

Mark Morrill, blasts a serve into opposing court.

Steve Finnigan, No. 1 netter, displays excellent form in serving.

VARSITY TENNIS . . . Since taking over the coaching duties two years ago, Mr. Dick Lewis has never lost a championship in either the City or Capital League. His initial team finished second in the state tournament behind the doubles combination of Don Andersen and Steve Finnigan who captured the doubles title, and received fourth place honors last year behind Finnigan's efforts as singles runner up. This year's squad was even better. They had greater depth because of the return of Finnigan and Mark Morrill, two year lettermen, and the return of juniors John Loomis and Blaine Walker. Morrill and Finnigan have only lost one regular season match in their two preceeding years as Tiger regulars.

Coming to Stadium this year was an excellent crop of sophomores. Tom Peterson, Jim Sutherland, and Paul Larson fought for positions behind mainstays Morrill and Finnigan.

The squad played a rigorous schedule in battling such teams as Seattle Prep, defending state champions, Everett, Eisenhower and Davis of Yakima, Sammamish and East Bremerton, plus their league opponents.

Coach Lewis will lead his netmen into the state tournament as strong favorites to grab first place with singles favorite Finnigan and a top doubles team in Morrill and Tom Peterson.

RIFLE . . . Accuracy is the prime target for the Stadium marksmen. The rifle team, composed of eight men, participates in the Northwest Evergreen Junior Rifle League. During their five match schedule, the top five scores from each team determines the winner on the basis of total points. Each shooter has twenty shots, five each in the four shooting positions: prone, sitting, kneeling, and standing. The maximum number of points for each shot is ten, and two-hundred is the greatest total possible.

Among those working hard to achieve excellence are Buck Small, Larry Burns, Len Whitney, Bob Anderson, Mike Nist, Dave Cailler, Jim Click, Roy Mueller, Dennis Cailler, and Loren Baker. These riflemen practice throughout the school year and perform at the Point Defiance Park Civic Rifle Range. The corps this year was headed by new coach, Mr. Bud Cairns. The Stadium sharpshooters have always put forth maximum effort in fighting for the first place in their league.

CHESS TEAM . . . Don Russell, Coach Ron Jarmon, Fred Brock, Allan Nelson, Dave Gruenstein, Wayne Halvorson, John Hughes.

CHESS . . . Practicing conscientiously throughout the year, the chess team completed another successful season. Made up of members of the chess club, the chessmen were an experienced team composed of mostly seniors. Concentrated effort was the vital factor in determining the outcome of each game.

Their competition consisted of five matches in the months of January and February. Their opponents included the City schools and Franklin Pierce from the Parkland area. Each match was made up of five individual matches. Mr. Jarmon's gang successfully achieved their initiative by capturing the league title. They did not lose a match in regaining the crown.

Consistent play was recorded by team members Don Russell, Fred Brock, Dave Gruenstein, Ed Sund, John Campbell, and John Hughes. Coach Jarmon received maximum effort from each performer and encouraged their intelligent moves. Once again the chess team provided another title to the list of crowns gained by Stadium in athletic competition this year.

Everett Bedford

ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT . . . Furnishing Stadium rooters with an excellent array of exciting, thrill-packed sporting events lies in the job of Mr. Murray Healy, athletic director. His work is that of scheduling teams to fill out season schedules, seeing that Stadium is well dressed in new uniforms and is playing with good equipment, and supervising his own "team" of athletic managers.

The athletic managers have the responsibility of keeping the equipment in workable condition and issuing the equipment to the players. Working under Mr. Healy as athletic managers were Ron Winchester, Mike Hakola, and Perry Newell. Basketball statistician was Guy Shipley.

The athletic department prepares schedules and sporting events many months in advance and deserves a great deal of credit for their outstanding sport's programs.

TRAINER . . . One unheralded reason for Stadium excelling in its sport's activities this year was the fact that the teams were in top physical condition. Mr. Everett Bedford, trainer, led the corps whose duty it was to see that no injuries occurred, and to care for those that were unfortunate in being hurt. Keeping bandages, tape, and salt pills on hand were also among his responsibilities.

Working behind the scenes aiding all moans and groans were Mr. Bedford's able assistants. They performed such jobs as back rubs, ankle taping, and operating the whirlpool bath used in relaxing strenuous muscles and relieving annoying cramps. Tom Hayes and Mike Saunders carried out these vital tasks.

Team physicians are obligatory for aiding and healing injuries, but the main job is preventing the injuries; this is in the hands of the trainers.

Lettermen lend helping hand

BIG S . . . This athletic honor club served as an ambassador in all Stadium sports activities. Its membership, composed of all varsity lettermen, met on Wednesday mornings before school. The official "uniform" of the group is the traditional white or navy blue sweater.

Governing this group of enthusiastic young men were Phelon Cole, president; Carl Miraldi, vice president; Don Wonders, secretary-treasurer; and Fred Cook, sergeant-at-arms. Under their capable leadership, the club ushered fans to their seats at the Turkey Day Game, supported a dance in early November, organized a dart throwing booth at the Senior Carnival, and even swept the gym floor during intermission at home basketball games. The highlight of their year was their sponsorship of and participation in the Big S-Faculty Game. This game and the dance which followed helped to support the athletic insurance fund.

Experiencing another year of rewarding service, the lettermen's club faithfully upheld Stadium's laurels.

Royal Fins combine grace, co-ordination with swimming prowess

ROYAL FINS . . . Approximately twenty girls participated in Royal Fins, Stadium's talented synchronized swim group for those advanced swimmers who can perform difficult under-water ballet. Royal Fins participated every Thursday night with the goal of developing each swimmer into a mermaid with all the natural poise and grace of the aquatic life. Following the leadership of Carol A. Larson, president and the advisorship of Miss Hazel Minton, the young women worked from December to March in preparation for their annual swim show on May 5-6.

The theme of their show carried out the idea of fantasy and the magical kingdom. Dividing into groups to perform different phases of their theme, the girls worked endlessly in a coordinated effort to achieve success with their ability and show to the delight of all.

STADIANA . . . To promote and further girls' sports at Stadium—this is the purpose of Stadium's Girls' Athletic Association, Stadiana.

All girls who are interested in sports become eligible for membership in Stadiana after earning their first year athletic letter. Many ambitious girls go on to earn their second, third, and even fourth year letters.

The full calendar of Stadiana provided an opportunity for all members to take an active part. Beginning the year with the annual sweatshirt sale, Stadiana encouraged school spirit with the newly designed sweatshirts in the school colors. The booster ribbon sale again carried on the school spirit of Stadiumites during the basketball season. The novel fortune cookie sale provided fun for the student body as well as proving to be a good money raising project.

Speakers, parties, movies, games — in all activities Stadiana could not have had a more successful year. Under the capable leadership of President Nancy Stroud and advisor Miss Minton, who gave much of her time and energy working for the continued success of the club, Stadiana concluded this successful year with an annual harbor cruise.

STUDENT COUNCIL . . . Student Council's main purpose is to choose the various school committees, conduct all elections, and tend to any remaining business that is pertinent to the yearly school activities.

Eagerly supported by the student body, the Council led the annual activity ticket sales to another victory over Wilson. The groups' main project was to help the band raise enough money for new uniforms. They also sponsored activities such as the Thanksgiving Day Assembly, Homecoming festivities, and the Christmas Card Sale.

The very capable and respected advisor, Mr. Brown, aided the group in the performance of their duties. Working hard on every project, he was an inspiration to all. Vice-president Lee Brooke efficiently led the House of Representatives through their business of approving all school activities. Effectively working together, this year's student council served their school well.

JUNIOR CLASS . . . The Junior Class showed that they were united in purpose and action this year by their enthusiasm and organization in all of their projects. The first of the fall activities, the entirety of which were planned during meetings held last summer, was the annual Junior Prom. It was held in the Crystal Ballroom and carried as its theme "Once Upon a Winter's Night". The glittering effect of the elegant crystal chandeliers combined with the misty effect of scattered angel hair to produce very beautiful and most impressive decorations. Highlighting the evening was the coronation of a king and queen to reign over the night. During February Stadium's juniors co-sponsored a ski trip with the juniors at Wilson. Many fine skiers, as well as snow bunnies, braved the snowy slopes of Snoqualmie Pass that day.

March brought an informal school dance. The purpose of the successful money-making affair, placed under the direction of Diane Calloway and Andy Levesque, was to usher in the spring season. In April members of the class of '66 gathered up their rags, wax, soap, and buckets and held a car wash at a neighborhood service station. Robin Lea, Wayne Hoff, Rick Keely, and Ron Sitts planned the project. The grand finale of the year was the traditional "Farewell to Seniors Dance." For many years it has been the practice of the underclassmen to present this dance in honor of the graduating seniors. Kayleen Scott and Steve Mikkelson were the co-chairmen. All who attended the dance saluted the soon-to-be alumni.

SOPHOMORE CLASS . . . The Sophomore Class sponsored many activities this year as they worked toward their goal of raising money for the band fund. Their first, and biggest, success was the Return Address Label sale. With the money raised from this activity the treasury soared as did their spirit. The spirit held; during January they sponsored an informal dance in conjunction with the band council to increase the fund. The next project was a hoop-throwing contest at the Senior Class Carnival. Other events, including a spring car wash, were planned. GIRLS' CLUB . . . The largest and most active organization at Stadium is the Girls' Club. Promoting friendliness among students, encouraging scholarship, and boosting athletics are the three primary purposes of the busy organization.

Divided into four departments, Welfare, Service, Social, and Fellowship, Girls' Club gave every girl in the student body a chance to participate in the many fun-filled and profitable projects held by the four competitive departments.

The Big Sister-Little Sister Picnic, held at Owens Beach, and the assembly began the year. Later in the fall the annual Father-Daughter Banquet took place in the school lunch room and was appropriately named "My Heart Belongs to Daddy." The Christmas Drive helped carry out the goal of helping others. From the money donated by the students, gifts were given to the children at Remann Hall and the Mary Bridge Hospital. Mothers were next in line for honors: in February the Mother-Daughter Tea was held in the school library amid pink hearts and flowers. The Girls' Club Tolo, "Friendly Persuasion", climaxed Tolo Week in the spring. Other activities included the Easter and Memorial Day assemblies.

A special event this year was the remodeling of the Girls' Club Room. With the help of Mr. Corey and Mr. Lea, Stadium's girls now have a comfortable and pretty retreat.

In November the annual food drive was held. Through the donations of canned foods and boxed foodstuffs Stadiumites filled boxes which were given to the Salvation Army for distribution to the needy. "Boys Night Out", the spring dance given by the Boys' Club, highlighted the year's events with gay festivities. Club awards scholarship to worthy member HONOR SOCIETY . . . The purpose of the Stadium Honor Society is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to give service, and to promote outstanding leadership. Membership in this club is one of the highest honors a student can earn. Qualifications for membership are good character, leadership, willingness to serve the club, school, and community, and a grade point average of 3.2 or above. Application forms, available from the club officers or the advisor, are filled out by prospective members and presented to the faculty council for approval.

This year members were ably led by President Susan Garasi and advised by a new advisor, Mr. Arpke. The other officers included: Anne Pinckney, vice president; Donna Freeberg, recording secretary; Ruth Kleinman, corresponding secretary; and Robert Pattin, treasurer.

Honor Society membership gives a student the right to participate in the National Honor Society scholarship program. With the funds obtained during the year the club awarded its own scholarship to the most active boy or girl member.

Sahasa combines service and fun

SAHASA . . . The November membership rally introduced the many activities and projects that make up the year of Sahasa, Stadium's Y-Teens organization. Bonnie Christel, over-all president, enthusiastically led the club which met every other Monday evening. Within Sahasa are three divisions: Tri-Dels, led by Betty Yeager; Tri-Ads, led by Mary Loos; and Tri-Fi, led by Tammy Starkey.

The money earned through various projects helped toward the scholarship given to the most outstanding senior member. In December Kathy Taylor was the chairman of the main money making project of the year, the rummage sale. Later in the year the annual All-City Tolo with its lovely royalty spotlighted the eventful year. Other sales, projects, and the Senior Banquet, given in honor of the graduating members, completed the Sahasa year.

OFFICERS . . . B. Christel, president; M. Loos, Tri-Ads president; T. Starkey, Tri-Fi president; and B. Yeager, Tri-Dels president.

Journalistic traits taught

QUILL AND SCROLL . . . Quill and Scroll is the national honor society for student journalists serving on school publications such as yearbooks and newspapers. Though Stadium's chapter is small, it had an active and exciting year.

Judy Dreibelbis, the club's president, was aided by Ruby Turner, vice president, and Sue Chemedlin, secretary-treasurer. The new advisor was Mrs. Martindale.

These officers enthusiastically led the club in its many activities. Included among those activities were several guest speakers from the literary world of the Northwest, visits to other schools to explore the different methods of publishing a newspaper, and various projects to raise money for a scholarship given at the end of the year.

Membership in Quill and Scroll also gives one the chance for country-wide recognition through eligibility to participate in national literary contests.

Festive fiesta highlights new Spanish Club

SPANISH CLUB . . . "Ole!" shouted members of the new Spanish Club. They were encouraging participants to break the pinata at the group's fiesta, which was held this year in the lunchroom. The huge multi-colored, chicken-shaped pinata was filled with all kinds of goodies and when it finally came crashing to the floor, a mad rush of grabbing hands proceeded to snatch up the tiny treasures it held.

Manfred Wilson, the club's president, was aided by Charlene Cook, vice president; Jeanne Reiber, secretary; and Mary Loos, treasurer. Mr. Marquez enthusiastically advised the members, and planned to initiate a Spanish Honor Society which would be composed of people who received exceptionally good grades in Spanish. To help fill the treasury the club held a bake sale during the first week of March, thus ensuring that Spanish Club would continue next year.

DEBATE CLUB . . . Stadium's debators pitted mind against mind in this year's important tournaments. The club met the other city high schools throughout the year and concluded with the match at the University of Puget Sound Debate Tournament which proved to be the most exciting of them all.

Led by President Karen Carmean, the members divided into teams of two for the entire year. Each team prepared for both the affirmative and the negative positions.

At the season's end, Mr. Parber handed out the coveted debate letters for either one, two, or three year's participation, according to the number of debates won.

"Sock Hop" was a festive night

PEP CLUB . . . Pep Club's goal is to promote enthusiasm and spirit in the school. Their year began by wildly decorating the many cars in the pep parade to the Grid-Go-Round. In October Patty Robblee and Dave Price were co-chairmen of the victory football dance, "Sock Hop." The club's various duties include providing clever skits for the numerous pep assemblies, organizing pep buses for games, ushering at P.T.A. meetings, publicizing games, and selling season tickets.

Club Goal of international understanding promoted by the exchange student program.

AFFILIATION CLUB . . . International understanding through friendship is the purpose of Stadium's Affiliation Club. Its main goal this year was to sell enough stocks to send Mary Kay O'Reilly and Louis Smith to Germany as next year's exchange students. Gretchen Staatz will also be going to Germany, but on her own private funds. Led by Karen Carmean, President; Sally Sprenger, vice president; Alta Petrich, secretary; and Elisabeth Anderson, treasurer; the club held social activities with a touch of foreign flavor.

The year was highlighted by the October celebration of International Day.

The stock sale, as well as International Day, was an overwhelming success and the year ended with the satisfaction of knowing the exchange of ideas, and, most of all, the exchange of students will continue here at Stadium.

Officers: Jill Boronda, stock sale chairman; Elisabeth Anderson, treasurer; Sally Sprenger, vice president; Karen Carmean, president; Alta Petrich, secretary.

EXCHANGE STUDENTS . . . This year the Stadium student body was privileged to have two exchange students among its number, Huschi Beucker and Kirsten Boehmer. They were chosen to represent Germany in the exchange program because of their scholastic achievements, the recommendations of teachers and fellow students, and because of their fluency in speaking the English language.

Huschi came from Humbolt Gymnasium in Dusseldorf, Germany. Her activities here centered mainly around sports and service organizations. She enthusiastically participated in the girls' after-school sports program and was able to accumulate enough points for her first year athletic letter. She was an honorary member of Triple S and proudly wore the dark skirt, white blouse, and blue blazer that symbolize the honor of this club. Huschi was also an active member of Affiliation Club, Ski Club, and Girls' Club.

Kirsten came from Homan von Fallersleben Schule in Braunschweig, Germany. Her participation was mainly in service groups and the music program. Kirsten's musical ability gained membership for her in the Stadium A Capella Choir. She was the first exchange student to be thus honored. Also an active member of Triple S, she helped with many of the club's projects, including the selling of basketball and football programs at most games. Affiliation Club took up much of her spare time as did Girls' Club.

Both girls gained many friends during their year of "Americanization", it was certainly Stadium's honor and pleasure to be their host for the 1964-65 school year.

uniform and sponsoring scholarship

TRIPLE S . . . To encourage newcomers, to build outstanding students, to foster scholarship, to build vital leaders . . . these are the by-products of Stadium's Supporting Spirit.

Led by Sandy Tuell, president; Charlene Cook, vice president; Elsie Nakagawara, secretary; and Judy Dreibelbis, treasurer; the club completed one of its most successful years. Mrs. Price is the club's adviser and devotes much of her time to the oldest club at Stadium.

Triple S began its active year with the traditional Howdy Dance and Assembly. During a beautiful candle-light ceremony in October, and again in February, girls who had been accepted on the basis of point earned in scholarship, leadership, and service were initiated into the club. At the football and basketball games members sold programs to promote the spirit of the fans. The yuletide season was ushered in by giving lovely corsages and boutonnieres to the faculty, and by selling red and green hair bows to the girls. A handsome noble fir decorated with bright red balls graced the front hall. In May the most deserving senior member was awarded a scholarship, and the year was closed with a party given by the newly elected officers for the outgoing officers.

Priscilla Lisicich Elsie Nakagawara, and Mary Schubert decorate the noble fir with brightly colored red balls during the Christmas season.

Football Banquet co-chairmen Susie Hren and Pam Smith busily decorate the football bulletin board for the evening's dinner and festivities.

Graduation Ends Long

PRESIDENT
Don Cornwell

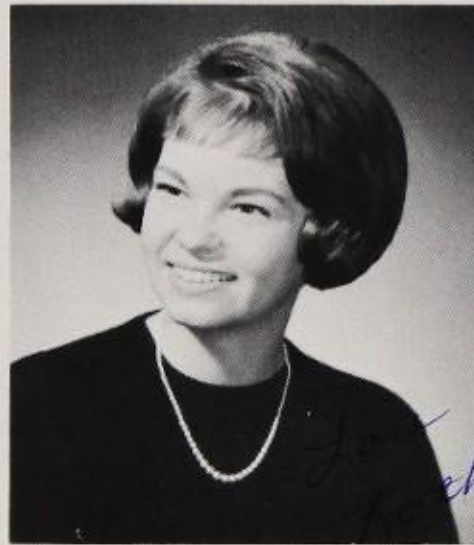

SENIORS . . . The class of '65 began its final year at Stadium with a flourish of activity. A candy sale, co-chaired by Greg Curwen and Susan Garasi, was first on the agenda. Its purpose was to increase the treasury for spring activities. Thanksgiving was highlighted by the Barn Dance, "Turkey in the Straw", and by our 14-13 victory in the Turkey Day Game. To our football team belongs an outstanding part of the year because of their other wins in the Grid-Go-Round, and their championships of the City and Capitol Leagues.

The winter season commenced with the Hoop-Go-Round and included the winter concert, school play, and Homecoming. Under the direction of Priscilla Lisicich and Mike Irwin, Homecoming week brought many old friends back to the Brown Castle. Another winter activity was the Senior Class Carnival and Sweater Dance which was pronounced a success by co-chairmen Carol A. Larson and Joe Downey.

Spring brought the Senior Assembly, under the supervision of Lydia Topolski and Louie Smith; Senior Week, led by Anita Manza and Jim Stewart; the Senior Ball, headed by Diane Lind and Larry Walters; and the Senior Banquet, directed by Jill Austin and Bill Lindeman.

The head of the class of '65 was Don Cornwell. Under his very capable leadership, with the assistance of his cabinet officers, the spirit, enthusiasm, and lively interest of over five hundred seniors prospered to overwhelming proportions.

The second week of June brought with it an event toward which we had been working for 12 academic years. Graduation was a time for joy, for sadness, for the reawakening of hopes, ideals, and dreams. In our hands laid diplomas that represented all the knowledge that we possessed: knowledge that had been laid as the foundation for our future lives. When we first donned those royal blue robes, and when they came off for the final time, an unrestrainable feeling of humbleness swept over each scholar. That humbleness came with the realization that we had come to a very large stepping-stone in our still-young lives. The next step we took would bring us to adulthood.

Dear Andrea,
Isn't that funny, the nicest people you always get to know when the time is near to say good-bye.
But I sure enjoyed knowing you and I know, too, that I will miss you. Please stay the sweet girl you are - my best wishes go with you.
I know you will make your life a good and successful one. Love always,
Kirsten

Dear Andrea

It's been great knowing and having you in English. You're a lot of fun and I hope to see you this summer.
Good luck always.

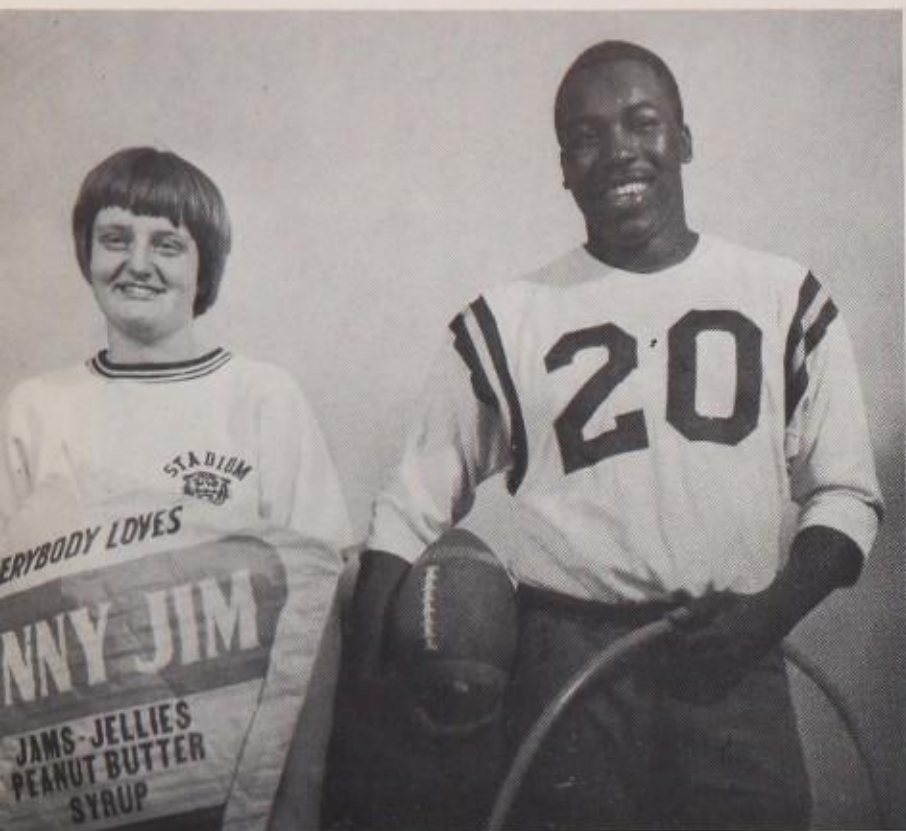

Rick Dupis

Audrey,
We've been good friends the last two years and I hope our friendship will last. You are a very smart girl and have a wonderful personality.
Although you and R. are very good friends and she hates me I am glad that you act friendly to me. Thanks, Good luck!

Alone . . .

The individual.

A day is ended,

A child's question unanswered.

Generations past,

Seeking the essence of mankind,

Place their hope in the individual.

So friend of this generation—

Sing the song of the universe.

Cry out to the distant stars.

Thou art the individual!

Dear Andrea,
 This year has been a great one.
 I've enjoyed all the times
 you would help me.
 Have fun next year, we can be your sr. year in the best enjoyed sitting by you in French now then + I really stay sweet + watch the days. and I hope we can see each other in the summer.
 Love,
 Jeff

Dear Andy,
 It seems we have seen a little more of each other this year.
 You are to be congratulated.
 on your Girls Club Social Department Chairmen.
 That's so neat to look forward to. I hope you can carry on as Susan had done before you. I hope we get a few class together next year, one where we can have fun instead of work. Let's get together for some tennis this summer. or this is a
 max. Well see ya
 Bye Now
 Always Michelle
 Anderson
 Dear Andrea,
 Hi. ee! Well, we made it thru Mr. Gungley's class without any severe casualties. (We haven't had the final yet) I'm glad you transferred in to as Mr. Coals room. He's quite a winner!
 Summer. You'll have to come and visit me and we can take a little walk down Cedar St Girls Council next year.
 Be good! Love
 Linda
 Anderson

It's really a shame our talks couldn't have continued in Study Hall. (Not much studying huh?) It helped me to get to know you much better.
Have a wonderful summer

until next year

Patti.

Wernick

Dear Andrea,

I'm really looking forward to being on Girl's Council with you next year. I know we are really going to have fun, that is if we can decide things easier than we did about our uniforms (all that time and they wound up almost exactly like the original idea!). I know I'll see a lot of you next year, so until then have fun and be good!

Love,

Marilyn Trent

Dear Andrea,

It has been a lot of fun
knowing you the past years and having you in French class.
The best of luck next year, especially if you go on in French. Have a nice summer and who knows we might run into one another this summer.

Love,

Dick

Hayes

Andrea,

It was great to be in chemistry with you. Guess you're really a brain. Hope to have some classes with you next year and hope to see more of you in the future. I hope I don't sound corny but if you never change you'll have it made and I know you will.
Hope to see you this summer.

Frazer Mann

Dear Andrea,
So glad I got to meet you this year. I just would love to see you next year.
Love,
Annette
Falcon

Andrea,
I'm really glad
I got to know you this year. I hope we can have some classes together next year. Go our friendship well grow. Thanks for listening about Paul the woman you're a real friend. Best of luck to you and your family.
Love,
Debbie

Dear Andrea,

Boy, I can hardly wait until next year! - mainly because it just might be as fun knowing you then as it is now. And it has been fun. Your little adventures (mostly with the opposite sex) kept Driver's Training (pardon the expression) in all the years to come bearable. Don't drive too many guys out of their minds this summer, now I'll be seeing you this summer (on council) and next year

Keep smiling

ANDI

SURE WAS FUN WITH YOU IN FRENCH AND ENGLISH. EVEN IF YOU DID GET BETTER GRADES. OH WELL. I DIDN'T APPLY MYSELF. YOUR A LOT SWEETER AFTER YOU GET TO KNOW YOU THAN BEFORE BY SEEING YOU. YOUR A SWEET ACTIVE GIRL WHICH AS BEEN PROBABLY BEEN TOLD BY EVERY OTHER PERSON WHO WROTE IN HERE. YOU & BLAINE ARE A REAL SWEET COUPLE. HE WAS IN MY SIXTH GRADE CLASS. ALL THE GIRLS WERE HOT FOR HIM & GREG GUCKERT. ON WELL THAT'S LUCK. BYE NOW (I CAN'T THINK OF ANYTHING ELSE TO WRITE)

SINCE I'VE PROBABLY WRITTEN TOO MUCH NOW

BYE NOW
(again)

Marly S. Ridge

Dear Andrea,

Well we lived through roll 120. It was great knowing you! you seemed to be such a help in my sophomore year. You and your sweet smile. Best of luck to you in your senior and above always.

Mary Smith, '67.

Andrea,

It's been fun having you in my Chemistry class this year. Too bad you had to get stuck with Mr. Quigley again this year.

Nick Meucci

Dear Andrea,

I am so grateful that we've become good friends. you're just a doll & oh so smart.

Thanks for the help you gave me in algebra.

I hope you & Blaine stay together - for you're both top notched people. Hope to see you this summer.

Love,
Peg Rowland

Doug Johnson

Dear Andrea,
French has been too much this year and somehow I feel you have
"made" the whole class.
I hope your still your same sweet self next year as you have been this year. Till then have a great summer and I really do hope to see you next year.
Have Fun
Love
Andrea - This first year

Andrea - This first period class has been great and I hope to see you lots in the years to come.
Watch those beet this year and in the future. Best of luck.
Mark Schubert

I have been
 You lots in

Dear Andrew
I'm glad you got in any friend class as we never would've got to know one another and I would of go on thinking bad
thoughts about you.
I think your cat
of Jim and you have a winning personal idea may of had our d agreement but in the
I hope as friendship won't out. I hope see you next year a don't forget to say hi
I know you didn't me. Have fun this and for goodness s leave the keep old down to year in Capt. Gregg's. Isn't that a great achievement. I hope by next year you are able to overcome those evil moods. Make sure you get in in time during the summer because we wouldn't want you to get canned by your parents (ha! ha!) If you ever happen to venture out of your house this summer please remember to wear shoes so that your tender feet don't get burned. After this list of do's & don'ts just have a good time this summer & next year

 I love you
 Mom
